You are cordially invited to a lecture by:

François Crépeau
Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Chair in Human Rights

Global Migration Governance after the New York Summits: Towards a Generational Agenda?

Tuesday, October 18, 2016
2:00 – 3:30 p.m.
Georgetown University Law Center
600 New Jersey Ave., N.W.
Eric E. Hotung International Law Building
Room 2001

Light refreshments will be provided; please RSVP here.

François Crépeau is Full Professor and the Hans & Tamar Oppenheimer Chair in Public International Law, at the Faculty of Law of McGill University, as well as the Director of the McGill Centre for Human Rights and Legal Pluralism. He is presently the 2016-2017 Robert F. Drinan, S.J., Chair in Human Rights at the Georgetown University Law Center, and is guest professor at the Université Catholique de Louvain (2010-2018). He is the United Nations Special Rapporteur on the Human Rights of Migrants (2011-2017). In this capacity, he has conducted official visits to Albania, Tunisia, Turkey, Italy, Greece, Qatar, Sri Lanka, Malta, the European institutions in Brussels and Vienna, and will go to Australia and Nauru in November 2016. He has also produced several thematic reports: the detention of migrants, the protection of migrants’ rights at the external borders of the European Union, climate change and migration, global migration governance, labor exploitation of migrants, labor recruitment practices, and the strategic planning of migration policies. He has given many conferences, published numerous articles, and written, edited, or co-edited nine books. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada.

Please contact Patrick Griffith at pwg7@law.georgetown.edu with any questions.