IJC Fellow (2014 – 2016) and Staff Attorney at the American Immigration Council

The Immigrant Justice Corps is an opportunity for aspiring immigration lawyers to launch careers in the immigration field through two-year field placements in leading organizations in and around New York City. Fellowship applications are due on November 15, 2016. More information about the fellowship and how to apply can be found on the IJC website.

Come to the session to learn more about the fellowship from a past fellow and Judge Katzmann, the prominent jurist who inspired the creation of the IJC and served as a Walsh Professor of Government, Professor of Law, and Professor of Public Policy at Georgetown before his appointment to the Second Circuit in 1999.
