Gregory S. Lisi has been elected a director of the Nassau County Bar Association in New York. His practice focuses on labor and employment, real estate and immigration matters.

Mary Ann Mancini (LL.M.), a partner at Bryan Cave, is part of a four-member team developing a new private client practice in the Washington, D.C., area. Mancini's practice focuses on estate and business planning and taxation.

Jennifer A. Manner (LL.M.) was appointed an adjunct professor of law at American University's Washington College of Law and also serves as an adjunct professor at Georgetown Law. Manner is currently vice president of regulatory affairs at Mobile Satellite Ventures.

Anjali Chaturvedi has joined the government investigations and white collar defense practice at Nixon Peabody as a partner after 12 years as a federal prosecutor in Washington, D.C., and San Francisco. Chaturvedi was an adjunct professor at Georgetown Law from 1996 to 2004.

Monica A. Fennell has been selected as the 2007-2008 Supreme Court fellow assigned to the Administrative Office of the United States Courts. Her duties may include analyzing and interpreting studies requested by Congress or the Judicial Conference, researching the federal rulemaking process or drafting publications on administrative issues of interest to judges.

Ellen McElroy (LL.M.) has joined the Washington, D.C., office of Pepper Hamilton as a partner. McElroy, an experienced tax lawyer, comes to the firm from the chief counsel office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Sheila Dearybury Walcoff and her husband, Dr. Jeff Walcoff, welcomed the birth of their son, Skyler Pierce, on August 3, 2005. In December 2005, Walcoff was appointed counselor to Michael O. Leavitt, secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. As the secretary's principal policy adviser on matters relating to science and public health, Walcoff has a portfolio that includes oversight and coordination of the National Institutes of Health, the Food and Drug Administration, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, as well as development and implementation of Bush administration initiatives related to genomics/personalized health care and prevention. The Walcoffs own and operate Frederick Emergency Animal Hospital, Frederick Veterinary Referral Group and Old Farm Veterinary Hospital in Frederick, Md.

Adam Ciongoli joined the insurance broker Willis Group Holdings Limited as general counsel in March and will also rejoin Georgetown Law Center's Corporate Counsel Institute Advisory Board. In 2006, Ciongoli left a position as senior vice president and general counsel at Time Warner Europe — and his seat on the advisory board — to clerk for Supreme Court Justice Samuel Alito Jr.

The Philadelphia firm of Drinker Biddle & Reath has elected Jeffrey L. Lopez a partner in its Washington, D.C., office. Lopez focuses on complex commercial litigation, including pre-trial, trial and appellate proceedings.

Christopher Rourk, a partner in the intellectual property and technology section of Jackson Walker, has been named to the One Call Board of Texas for a three-year appointment. The board's purpose is to provide "one call" for evacuation safety and damage-prevention notification prior to excavation, allowing utility companies in the area to receive notice of the planned excavation. Rourk has extensive experience in helping clients protect their intellectual property in the semiconductor, software and telecom fields.
