Table of Contents

Student Services Quick Guide........................................................................................................ iv
Juris Doctor Program....................................................................................................................... 1
Graduate Programs ......................................................................................................................... 37
General Administrative Policies..................................................................................................... 81
Conduct Policies ............................................................................................................................ 101
Tuition and Fees ............................................................................................................................. 139
Search Terms and Acronyms.......................................................................................................... 157

---

The Law Center reserves the right to change academic requirements and policies. Any changes made after the publication of this Handbook are reflected in the online version, available at http://www.law.georgetown.edu/go/handbook/.

PLEASE CHECK YOUR GEORGETOWN EMAIL ACCOUNT OFTEN

The primary means by which the Law Center communicates with students, including notifying students of significant changes to the policies described in this Handbook, is through Georgetown’s email system. Each student has a Georgetown Google Apps for Education account and should check this account regularly.

For assistance with your email account, contact the Law Center Service Desk at 202-662-9284 or lawhelp@georgetown.edu.