

2009-2010 ACADEMIC YEAR

IIEL Student Fellows

Charles BENOIT (Canada), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law
Dominic Alexander BOUCSEIN (Germany), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Adriana Akiko de ANDRADE (Brazil), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Renato GOMES (Brazil), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Koen HOORNAERT (Belgium), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Elisabeth Sophia LANGE (Germany), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Christophe LAROUER (France), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Susan MATHENGE (Kenya), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Trevor McLEOD (Canada), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Joséphine NEVEUX (France), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Catherine PETERS (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law
Rodrigo Luis PUPO (Brazil), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Brendan RUDDY (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law
Konstantinos SALONIDIS (Greece), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Manuel SÁNCHEZ MIRANDA (Mexico), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Nicholas M.A. SMITH (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law
Victor VAN HOORN (Netherlands/France), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law
Jin ZHEN (China), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

IIEL Visiting Fellows

R. Michael GADBAW (USA), Adjunct Professor, Georgetown Law
Jennifer A. HILLMAN (USA), WTO Appellate Body Member
Nicolas LAMP (Germany), Ph.D. candidate, London School of Econ. & Political Science
Jaemin LEE (Korea), Professor of Law, Hanyang University College of Law
Werner MENG (Germany), Professor of Law, University of Saarbruecken
Andrew MITCHELL (Australia), Associate Professor, Melbourne Law School
Maria PAPANTONI (Greece), Professor of Law, Panteion University, Athens
Russell STEVENSON (USA), Visiting Professor of Law, Georgetown Law
Tania VOON (Australia), Associate Professor, Melbourne Law School
Yitong WANG (China), Ph.D. candidate, Fudan University Law School
Fei YU (China), Lecturer, Shanghai University of Finance & Economics
Shengxing YU (China), Ph.D. candidate, Fudan University
Junqi ZHANG (China), Professor of Law, Shanghai University of Finance & Economics

2009-2010 IIEL Distinguished Senior Fellows

R. Michael GADBAW (USA), Adjunct Professor, Georgetown Law

Mr. Gadbow serves as Co-Chair of the U.S.-China Legal Cooperation Fund, and he is a Board member of the National Bureau of Asia Research, Partners for Democratic Change, the World Affairs Council and the European Institute. In February 2008, Mr. Gadbow retired after seventeen years as Vice President and Senior Counsel for General Electric's International Law & Policy group. In that position, he was responsible for supporting the global operations of GE's businesses, particularly in the areas of public policy, transaction advocacy, regulatory reform, global funding and compliance. He served as Chairman of GE's International Practice Group and was the internal champion for GE policies on Improper Payments and International Trade Controls. He continues to support GE's corporate citizenship work and Public Policy Committee of the GE Foundation. Mr. Gadbow was founding Chairman of the State Department's Advisory Committee on International Economic Policy (1994-2008), Chairman of the U.S.-Malaysia Business Committee of the US ASEAN Business Council, founding Chairman of the India Interest Group; a Trustee of the U.S. Council for International Business; and a member and former Chairman of the U.S.-Egypt Presidents' Council. Before joining GE, Mr. Gadbow was in private practice (1980-1990), initially as a partner in Verner, Lipfert, Bernhard, McPherson and Hand and then as a partner at Dewey Ballantine where he helped form that firm's international trade group. Mr. Gadbow began his legal career as Counsel in the General Counsel's office in the U.S. Treasury Department and later served as Assistant and then Deputy General Counsel in the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative.

Jennifer A. HILLMAN (USA), WTO Appellate Body Member

In December 2007, Jennifer Hillman was appointed as a member of the Appellate Body of the World Trade Organization (WTO) for a four-year term. Since February 2008, she has also been a Senior Transatlantic Fellow at the German Marshall Fund of the United States. In March 2007, she completed nine years of service as a Commissioner on the U.S. International Trade Commission. She was originally appointed to the Commission in 1998 by President Clinton, and from June 2002 to June 2004 she served as Vice Chairman of the Commission. Prior to her appointment to the USITC, she served as General Counsel at the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) from 1995-1997, and before that she served as USTR's Chief Textile Negotiator with the rank of Ambassador. Prior to joining USTR, Ambassador Hillman was the Legislative Director and Counsel to U.S. Senator Terry Sanford of North Carolina, responsible for international trade and international finance issues. She began her professional career as an international trade attorney in the Washington firm of Patton, Boggs, LLP. Ambassador Hillman taught at Georgetown Law as an adjunct professor from 2006-2008.

2009-2010 IIEL Student Fellows

Charles BENOIT (Canada), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Benoit is a J.D. and WTO Certificate candidate at Georgetown Law, and an intern in the trade section of the Canadian Embassy in Washington. He was a 2009 summer associate in the Financial Services practice of Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft, LLP in New York, NY. Previously, Mr. Benoit was part of an international team in the Legal, Economic and Regulatory Affairs practice area of Gerson Lehrman Group's New Delhi and Austin, TX offices. He specialized in finding, engaging and managing attorneys and economists for the research purposes of buy-side investment firms, consultancies and corporations. Mr. Benoit received his B.A. from the University of Western Ontario.

Dominic Alexander BOUCSEIN (Germany), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Boucsein earned his Master in International and European Law from the University of Geneva, Switzerland. His master thesis focused on the trade of cultural products in the WTO, focusing on the interplay of international law and WTO law, e-commerce, and trade in audiovisuals. During his law studies he interned at the United Nations Conference of Trade and Development, where he worked for the Creative Economy Programme. Previously he interned for the German-Mexican and German-Brazilian Chamber of Commerce. In 2007 he represented the Graduate Institute in Geneva at the ELSA WTO Moot Court Competition where he won the Best Orator Award in the European Regional Rounds.

Adriana Akiko de ANDRADE (Brazil), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mrs. Andrade is a Ph.D. researcher at the University of Leuven and has focused her dissertation on Biofuels under WTO rules. She holds a Master of Laws in European and International Economic Law from the Institute of European Studies of the University of Saarland, Germany, and a Bachelor of Laws from Universidade Presbiteriana Mackenzie, Brazil. She is a member of the Brazilian and the Portuguese Bar Associations. From 2006 to 2007 she held a traineeship at the European Commission's Directorate General for Trade (Trade Defense Instruments Unit) and at the Brazilian Mission to the European Communities in Brussels. After that, she worked in a law firm in Brussels dealing with trade matters and in the University of Leuven as a research assistant where she was also a coach of the winning team of the European round of the ELSA Moot Court Competition on WTO Law. Before coming to Georgetown she worked as an attorney at a large Brazilian law firm in São Paulo dealing with corporate issues involving biofuels and trade matters, in particular anti-dumping proceedings.

Renato GOMES (Brazil), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Gomes is an S.J.D candidate (CAPES-Fulbright scholar) focusing on the democratic impacts of WTO rules in developing economies. He also serves as research assistant to Professor John H. Jackson and as director of the ABCI Institute (Brazilian International Trade Scholars). Before coming to Georgetown he worked as legal officer for Nobel Peace laureate Martti Ahtisaari at the United Nations Office of the Special Envoy for Kosovo in Vienna. In 2004 he was on the winning team in the final oral round of the ELSA Moot Court Competition on WTO Law in Geneva, and he won the Best Oralist award in the United Kingdom's national round of that same competition. Mr. Gomes also won Best Oralist awards in the Brazilian rounds of the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition in 2003, 2002 and 2001, and was on the winning team in 2003. Mr. Gomes holds an LL.M. from Georgetown University (Instituto Ling scholar), an LL.M. from the London School of Economics and Political Science (Graduate Merit Award and Alban scholar) and a Bachelor of Laws from Faculdade de Direito da Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais, Brazil. He is a member of the Bar in Brazil and Portugal.

Koen HOORNAERT (Belgium), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Hoornaert has a law degree from Ghent University, Belgium. He served for four years as an elected student representative on the law school faculty board and has been a member of the Ghent University Educational Board. He was selected to study as an exchange student at American University Washington College of Law in fall 2007, where he was as an international visiting scholar in spring 2009. He is a 2009 Fellow of the Belgian American Educational Foundation (B.A.E.F.). He has been the President of the Ghent Association University Students' Board. Last summer, he worked as a summer associate at Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer Brussels. He won various prizes in public speaking, business law and negotiating.

Elisabeth Sophia LANGE (Germany), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Ms. Lange obtained her LL.B. from University College London and a Certificate in German Law from Ludwig Maximilian University in Munich. Prior to attending Georgetown, she was completing her professional training as a commercial solicitor in London. Following an internship at an Israeli law firm in Tel-Aviv, Ms. Lange was selected for a placement at the European Parliament in Brussels where she monitored the 2006 Israel-Lebanon crisis. At Jones Day in Munich and Clifford Chance in Brussels, Ms. Lange's work focused on European Patent Law and European Merger Control.

Christophe LAROUER (France), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law

Since November 2009, Mr. Larouer has been Special Assistant and Speechwriter to the U.S. Ambassador to France in Paris. Mr. Larouer was an IIEL Fellow in 2004-2005 while he was a Georgetown Law LL.M. candidate; and he continued as a Fellow from 2007 until November 2009 as an S.J.D. candidate at Georgetown Law and as research assistant to Professor John H. Jackson. During that time, he also wrote and edited legal documents and speeches in French/English for Associate Justice Stephen G. Breyer of the U.S. Supreme Court. Prior to studying at Georgetown, he practiced with Deprez–Dian–Guignot & Associés in Paris, France, where he focused on intellectual property law and litigated before the World Intellectual Property Organization. His legal scholarship is in the area of international economic law and European law. He recently published In the Name of Sovereignty? The Battle over In Dubio Mitius Inside and Outside the Courts, Cornell Law School Graduate Student Papers Series No. 22 (2009), and WTO Non-Violation Complaints: A Misunderstood Remedy in the WTO Dispute Settlement System, 53(1) Netherlands Intl. L. Rev. 97-126 (2006) Cambridge University Press. Mr. Larouer holds an LL.M. in International Legal Studies (with distinction) from Georgetown Law, the WTO Certificate from the Institute of International Economic Law, and an LL.M. in International and European Law from the University of Nice School of Law. He is admitted to the New York Bar.

Susan MATHENGE (Kenya), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Ms. Mathenge earned her J.D. from Howard University School of Law where she concentrated her elective courses in the area of international trade law. While at Howard, Ms. Mathenge completed a research paper on the compulsory licensing provision of the WTO Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property, specifically analyzing developing countries' rights to access essential medicines, against pharmaceutical companies' rights as patent holders. As research assistant to Professor Marsha A. Echols at Howard, she conducted significant research in the area of global food law and development. Prior to joining Georgetown, she worked in insurance litigation and in international horticultural export. Currently Ms. Mathenge is pursuing an LLM in International Business and Economic Law with a certificate in WTO studies.

Trevor McLEOD (Canada), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Prior to commencing LL.M. studies at Georgetown, Mr. McLeod was Legal Counsel to the Canada School of Energy and Environment, an innovative research and educational collaboration tasked with advancing public policy and scientific research on sustainable energy development. Mr. McLeod worked for more than five years as a corporate/energy lawyer at a major Canadian law firm, and was seconded on two occasions to pre-eminent energy corporations. He has also worked in the public affairs and legal departments of an international forest products corporation. Mr. McLeod earned his LL.B. from the University of Saskatchewan and has been a Member of the Canadian Bar Association and the Law Society of Alberta since 2004.

Joséphine NEVEUX (France), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Ms. Neveux is a candidate for the Sciences Po – Georgetown Law dual degree in International Affairs and Law (MIA/LL.M.). She earned a B.A. in Management from the University of Paris-Dauphine, an LL.B. from the University of Paris–Assas, and an LL.M. in European and International Business Law from the University of Paris-Dauphine. In 2008, Ms. Neveux worked as a trainee for the European Commission's Directorate General for Trade, in the unit in charge of Economic Partnership Agreement negotiations and trade relations with African, Caribbean and Pacific Countries (2008). Previously, she also held an internship at the French Embassy Trade Office in New York, conducting research for the Agricultural and Food sector. She was admitted to the Paris Bar School in 2008.

Catherine PETERS (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law

Ms. Peters is a J.D. and WTO Certificate candidate at Georgetown Law. She was a 2009 summer associate in Sidley Austin's International Trade and Dispute Resolution practice in Washington, DC.

Previously, Ms. Peters worked on international claims and investment disputes as an extern in the Office of the Legal Advisor at the U.S. Department of State. From 2005-2008, Ms. Peters was a Presidential Management Fellow in the International Trade Administration of the U.S. Department of Commerce, working primarily on international intellectual property issues. Ms. Peters earned a Master of Science in Foreign Service from Georgetown University and a B.A. from Villanova University.

Rodrigo Luis PUPO (Brazil), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Pupo earned both his LL.B and LL.M in International Law from the University of São Paulo in 2002 and 2005, respectively, with his final thesis on circumvention of anti-dumping duties. He then completed an internship with the Brazilian Mission to the WTO, followed by a practical training with the General Coordination of Disputes of the Brazilian Ministry of Foreign Relations. His research works include WTO dispute settlement and GATS. Since 2002, he has been an associate with the international trade practice of the Brazilian law firm Veirano Advogados.

Brendan RUDDY (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Ruddy received his B.A. from Boston College, during which he studied in El Salvador and South Africa. Subsequently he worked for an NGO in Kilimanjaro, Tanzania which provides legal aid and human rights advocacy. At Georgetown Brendan is a J.D. candidate in the class of 2010 and is pursuing a Certificate in WTO Studies at the Institute of International Economic Law. He has worked on regional economic integration projects in Africa for the International Law Institute (ILL) in Kampala, Uganda, and as a summer associate for Mayer Brown, LLP.

Konstantinos SALONIDIS (Greece), LL.M Candidate, Georgetown Law

Konstantinos Salonidis holds a Master of Laws in Public International Law and a Bachelor of Laws from Democritus University of Thrace School of Law, Greece; and the Diploma in Public International Law from The Hague Academy of International Law (2006). From 2001 to 2006 he was an associate in a Greek firm focusing on corporate law. From 2006 to 2009 he was a Research Fellow of the Academy of Athens, Bureau of International and Constitutional Institutions, a legal advisor of the Institute of International and Comparative Law, focusing on international commercial law, and a lecturer in international law at Democritus University of Thrace, Greece. From 2008 to 2009, he worked as a researcher for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Greece. Mr. Salonidis has several publications, including a monograph on soft law, and before coming to Georgetown he submitted his Ph.D. thesis to the Democritus University of Thrace.

Manuel SÁNCHEZ MIRANDA (Mexico), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. Sánchez Miranda earned his J.D. Degree from Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM) in 2007. In 2006, he participated in ELSA's WTO Moot Court Competition and won the Best Complainant Submission, Best Overall Submissions and the Runner-up Awards in the Latin-American Round. In 2006, he served an internship at the Permanent Mission of Mexico to the WTO in Geneva, in the intellectual property and dispute settlement division. Prior to attending Georgetown, he worked for the Mexican Government in the litigation of WTO cases, regarding the defense of trade remedies imposed by the Mexican investigating authority. His J.D. thesis on WTO legal remedies and countermeasures is to be published by Cameron May as a chapter in an edited book in Spanish. Mr. Sánchez Miranda's experience also includes the publication of some other articles regarding diverse WTO issues.

Nicholas M.A. SMITH (USA), J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law

Nicholas Smith is completing his studies at Georgetown after earning a concurrent Master's in Global Economic Law with the Paris Institute of Political Science and Paris I. Mr. Smith has an M.A. in international relations and economics from the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies. He worked for the Peace Corps in Côte d'Ivoire and Washington, as well as the Institute of International Economic Law, the Capital Area Immigrants' Rights Coalition, the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies, and the international corporate section of Gide Loyrette Nouel.

Victor VAN HOORN (Netherlands/France), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Mr. van Hoorn obtained an LL.B. and LL.M. cum laude from the University of Maastricht, the Netherlands, in the field of Dutch and European law. He is now enrolled in the dual Master Degree between Sciences Po Paris and Georgetown in International Affairs and Law. His main fields of interest are energy law, WTO law and competition law. He interned in 2006 at the Netherlands Embassy in Kiev, focusing on energy issues and counseling Dutch businesses on opportunities in Ukraine. He has Dutch/French dual citizenship.

Jin ZHEN (China), LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law

Ms. Zhen Jin was an associate working with Scott Liu & Associates in Beijing before coming to Georgetown Law. She is experienced in international trade, foreign direct investment and general corporate law matters. Ms. Jin has advised clients on numerous antidumping and countervailing duty investigations before the U.S. Department of Commerce and Canadian Border Services Agency. She also participated in a WTO dispute settlement case relating to measures on importation of automobile parts in China. Ms. Jin has advised numerous multinationals on making investments and doing business in China, and accumulated rich experiences in mergers and acquisitions, equity transfer and other related legal matters. She also advised the Beijing Organizing Committee for the XXIX Olympiad Games on various matters, including intellectual property protection, sales and marketing, ticketing, etc. Ms. Jin graduated from China University of Political Science and Law and received her bachelor of law degree in 2001. Ms. Jin obtained an LL.M. degree from the University of Nottingham in 2004.

2009-2010 IIEL Visiting Fellows

Nicolas LAMP (Germany), Ph.D. candidate, London School of Econ. & Political Science

Mr. Lamp is a Ph.D. candidate in Public International Law at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). He holds a B.A. and M.A. in International Relations from Technical University Dresden and Jacobs University, Bremen, respectively, and an LL.M. in Public International Law from the LSE. His PhD research focuses on international lawmaking processes, in particular the lawmaking process in the WTO. Mr. Lamp is at Georgetown Law as a Visiting Researcher and serves as Editorial Assistant for the Journal of International Economic Law, edited by Professor John H. Jackson.

Jaemin LEE (Korea), Professor of Law, Hanyang University College of Law

Professor Lee comes to Georgetown Law as a Fulbright Scholar, on sabbatical leave from Hanyang University in Seoul, where he teaches international law and international trade law. He earned his J.D. at Boston College Law School and his LL.M. in International Legal Studies at Georgetown Law. In 2006 he earned his Ph.D. in International Law at Seoul National University College of Law. Since September 2004 he also has provided legal advice to the WTO Trade Affairs Team at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Republic of Korea. Prior to attending Georgetown Law as an LL.M. candidate, he was an Associate in the international trade group in the Washington office of Wilkie Farr & Gallagher. Before that, he was a career foreign service officer in Korea's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade for nine years.

Werner MENG (Germany), Professor of Law, University of Saarbruecken

Professor Meng teaches at the University of Saarbruecken, where he has been Professor of Law and Director of the Institute of European Studies since 1999. He has previously been a Visiting Fellow at IIEL, and has also been a visiting professor at Chicago Kent University, World Trade Institute Bern (Switzerland), Amsterdam Law School, University of Rijeka Law School (Croatia), Tulane Law School (New Orleans), and Louisiana State University Law School (Baton Rouge). Professor Meng is returning to Georgetown Law as a Visiting Scholar for the first few weeks of the fall 2009 semester, as he has done each fall since 2001.

Andrew MITCHELL (Australia), Associate Professor, Melbourne Law School

Andrew Mitchell is a Visiting Professor at Georgetown Law for the fall 2009 semester, on leave from Melbourne Law School. His research focuses on public international law and international economic law. Professor Mitchell was previously a Solicitor with Allens Arthur Robinson in Australia, and he worked briefly at Davis Polk & Wardwell in New York. He has also worked in the Trade Directorate of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), the Intellectual Property Division of the World Trade Organization (WTO), and the Legal Department of the International Monetary Fund (IMF). Professor Mitchell has been an IIEL Visiting Fellow previously, as well as a Visiting Fellow at the Lauterpacht Research Centre for International Law, University of Cambridge; Visiting Research Fellow at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law; Visiting Fellow at the Department of Law, London School of Economics; and Scholar-in-Residence at the International Arbitration Group of WilmerHale in London. In 2007, following a nomination by the Australian government, the WTO's Dispute Settlement Body added him to the Indicative List of Governmental and Non-Governmental Panelists to hear WTO disputes. Professor Mitchell's publications include Legal Principles in WTO Disputes (Cambridge University Press, UK, 2007), Challenges and Prospects for the WTO (ed., Cameron May, UK, 2005), and articles in leading journals including the European Journal of International Law, the Journal of International Economic Law, the Journal of World Trade, and World Trade Review.

Maria PAPANTONI (Greece), Professor of Law, Panteion University, Athens

Maria Papantoni is an Assistant Professor of European Business Law in the Department of International and European Studies of Panteion University of Athens. She holds a Law degree from the Law Faculty of the National University of Athens and a Masters Degree in Business and Economic Law as well as a Ph.D. in law from the University of Panthéon-Sorbonne (Paris II). She is the author of numerous publications on European and national (Greek) company law, European and national (Greek) energy law and European and national (Greek) capital market law. She is an Attorney-at-Law in Athens and a lawyer at the National Bank of Greece.

Russell STEVENSON (USA), Visiting Professor of Law, Georgetown Law

Prof. Stevenson is a Visiting Senior Fellow at IIEL. He has been engaged for nearly 40 years in a variety of legal occupations including, law professor, regulator, private practitioner, and in-house counsel. He recently retired as Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary of CIENA Corporation, a leading provider of communications networking solutions. Before joining CIENA, Mr. Stevenson served as General Counsel of ARBROS Communications, an early stage communications service provider. From 1996 to 2000, he was General Counsel of CyberCash, Inc., a provider of software and services for electronic commerce. Prior to that, he practiced law in Washington, D.C., with a practice that concentrated on securities and corporate law. From 1971 to 1981 Prof. Stevenson was a member of the full-time law faculty at George Washington University, where he taught corporations, securities regulation, international business transactions, international economic development and civil procedure. During that time he also was a visiting professor at Cornell Law School and, in 1977-78, a Fulbright Professor at the University of Paris II (Sorbonne). In 1981 Prof. Stevenson joined the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission, where he served as Deputy General Counsel. In 1984 he returned to the private practice of law.

Prof. Stevenson holds a degree in mechanical engineering from Cornell University and received his J.D. from Harvard Law School, cum laude. He is a member of the bars of the District of Columbia and the United States Supreme Court. Prof. Stevenson is the author of two books on corporate law and has published numerous articles on securities regulation, corporate law, and the law of electronic commerce. He has spoken often at conferences on securities regulation, corporate governance and related topics. He has been active in the Business Law Section of the American Bar Association, the District of Columbia Bar, the International Law Association, and various community organizations.

Tania VOON (Australia), Associate Professor, Melbourne Law School

Tania Voon is a Visiting Professor at Georgetown Law for the fall 2009 semester, on leave from Melbourne Law School where she began teaching in 2004. She is a former Legal Officer of the Appellate Body Secretariat of the World Trade Organization (WTO) and has previously practiced law with Mallesons Stephen Jaques and the Australian Government Solicitor, and taught law at Monash University, Bond University, and the University of Western Ontario. Tania undertook her Master of Laws at Harvard Law School, supported by scholarships from the Australian Federation of University Women, the Foundation for Young Australians, and the International Chapter PEO Sisterhood. She completed her Ph.D. in Law at the University of Cambridge, where she was an Honorary Cambridge Commonwealth Trust Scholar and a WM Tapp Scholar of Gonville & Caius College. Professor Voon's research focuses on dispute settlement in the WTO, trade remedies in the WTO, preferential trade agreements, and the intersection between culture and international trade.

Her work has been published in leading international journals such as Cambridge Law Journal, the International and Comparative Law Quarterly, the Journal of International Economic Law, and the Journal of World Trade. In 2007, Professor Voon's monograph Cultural Products and the World Trade Organization was published by Cambridge University Press (UK). In the same year, Australia nominated her for inclusion in the WTO's Indicative List of Governmental and Non-Governmental Panelists for resolving disputes between WTO Members, and the WTO's Dispute Settlement Body approved this nomination.

Yitong WANG (China), Ph.D. candidate, Fudan University Law School

Mr. Wang is a Ph.D. Candidate at Fudan University Law School, spending the fall 2009 semester at Georgetown Law as a Visiting Researcher. He majored in International Trade and Intellectual Property Law, and he received his bachelor's degree in law (2007) from Shanghai Institute of Foreign Trade. Because of his outstanding performance in legal studies, he was granted the O'Melveny & Myers Legal Scholarship (Shanghai) in 2006. Mr. Wang has participated and contributed his thoughts in several domestic and international legal fora, including the Academy of International Trade Law held by the IEEM (Institute of European Studies of Macao) in Macao (2008). He has also published articles in the fields of WTO law as well as intellectual property rights issues in Chinese legal journals.

Fei YU (China), Lecturer, Shanghai University of Finance & Economics

Ms. Yu has been a lecturer at the Law School of Shanghai University of Finance & Economics (SUFU) since 2000. Her lectures focus on economics law, private international law and international economic law. Her research currently concentrates on trade remedies, WTO rules, competition law and conflicts law on which she has published several articles and contributed to certain books. She is the author of a monograph on "Legal Study of WTO's Safeguard and its Exceptive Rules." She received a Master of Laws and a Bachelor of Laws from China University of Political Science and Law in Beijing, and a B.A. in Chinese literature and language from Wenzhou University. She completed her doctoral dissertation on "Rethinking of Trade Remedy System" and obtained her Ph.D. candidate in Economics of Law at SUFE in 2008.

Shengxing YU (China), Ph.D. candidate, Fudan University

Shengxing “Steven” Yu is a Ph.D. candidate at Fudan University in Shanghai who is spending the 2009-2010 academic year at Georgetown Law as a Visiting Researcher. He is on leave from his law practice at Gaopeng & Partners PRC Lawyers, where he is a partner. Since 2003 he has been practicing law in China, focusing on trade remedy laws, foreign direct investment law and customs law, and he has represented many Chinese clients in antidumping proceedings. He also has served as a consultant at the Shanghai WTO Affairs Consultation Center (2001-2003). He earned a master’s degree in international law (2001) from Zhongnan University of Economics & Law and bachelor’s degree in English Education (1998) from Hubei College of Education, both in Wuhan, Hubei, China.

Junqi ZHANG (China), Professor of Law, Shanghai University of Finance & Economics

Zhang Junqi is a Professor of Law and a supervisor to doctoral students at the Law School of Shanghai University of Finance & Economics. He holds a B.A. and M.A. from Shaanxi Normal University and Ph.D. in Law from the Graduate School of Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. He has concentrated his academic research on international trade law, especially GATT/WTO law, for more than 10 years. He has published books and articles mainly on the supervisory and dispute settlement mechanism of WTO, the relationship between WTO and sovereignty, and the international responsibility system in WTO. He currently focuses his research on the rules and practices on trade in civil aircraft in WTO.