

2003-2004 ACADEMIC YEAR

IIEL Student Fellows

Matthew ARCHER-BECK (United States), J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Angela Teresa Gobbi ESTRELLA (Brazil), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kaoru HARADA (Japan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kyla HENRIKSEN (Canada), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Ko-Jen HSIANG (Taiwan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Ruth JIN (China), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Woojung KIM (South Korea), J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law
Natalia LAZAROVA (Bulgaria), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Songtao LIU (China), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
María Eugenia LLOREDA (Colombia), M.S.F.S. Candidate, Georgetown University.
Gustavo LUENGO (Spain), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kazumi NISHIKAWA (Japan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kayo NISHIMURA (Japan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Pauni de Jesus OBREGON (Nicaragua), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law; Fulbright Scholar.
Zarana OOMRIGAR (India), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Jose Antonio RIVAS-CAMPO (Colombia), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law; Fulbright Scholar.
Andreas SENNEKAMP (Germany), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Natalia SLUGA (Argentina), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Michael SOLURSH (Canada), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Li-Dar WANG (Taiwan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Chen ZHANG (China), J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law.

IIEL Visiting Fellows

Claudio DORDI (Italy), Professor, University of Brescia; Lecturer, Bocconi University, Milan.
Moshe HIRSCH (Israel), Senior Lecturer, Hebrew University, Jerusalem.
Werner MENG (Germany), Professor of Law, University of Saarbruecken.
Andrew MITCHELL (Australia), Ph.D. Candidate, University of Cambridge.
Isabelle VAN DAMME (Belgium), IIEL Editorial Assistant.
Tania VOON (Australia), Ph.D. Candidate, University of Cambridge.

2003-2004 IIEL Student Fellows

Matthew ARCHER-BECK (United States), IIEL Fellow

Mr. Archer-Beck was an IIEL Fellow while he was a J.D. student at Georgetown Law. He also served as a Research Assistant to Professor John H. Jackson. He worked on WTO dispute settlement and other international trade issues while a summer associate at Sidley Austin Brown & Wood in Washington, D.C. He also served as an articles editor on the Georgetown Law Journal and as a Senior Writing Fellow.

Angela Teresa Gobbi ESTRELLA (Brazil), IIEL Fellow

LL.M. Georgetown Law.

Kaoru HARADA (Japan), IIEL Fellow

LL.M., Georgetown Law. Ms. Harada holds a Bachelor of Law degree from Keio University in Tokyo, Japan, where she concentrated on the study of Antimonopoly Law of Japan, Antitrust Law of the U.S. and International Trade Law. After graduation from Keio University, she worked for the Japan Fair Trade Commission (JFTC), where she participated in several investigations of anticompetitive behavior, researched issues on investigation of international anticompetitive conduct, and was in charge of hearing procedures to determine the amount of administrative surcharges of cartel or bid-rigging participants.

Kyla HENRIKSEN (Canada), IIEL Fellow

LL.M., Georgetown Law. Ms. Henriksen graduated with an undergraduate degree with honours in history from Concordia University in Montreal and a graduate degree in history from the University of Toronto prior to completing her studies at the Faculty of Law at the University of British Columbia. She then served as a law clerk at the British Columbia Court of Appeal in Vancouver. Following her call to the British Columbia Bar in 2000, Ms. Henriksen practiced in the area of commercial insolvency at the Vancouver office of Fasken Martineau DuMoulin LLP until August 2003. As counsel and junior counsel, she acted in various cross-border and international insolvency matters, in actions arising from fraudulent transactions, and for both secured and unsecured creditors in respect of realizations and bankruptcy remedies. While at Georgetown she served as research assistant for the IIEL's Oral History Project on the World Trading System. As of January 2006, Ms. Henriksen was in Ottawa serving as Counsel, Department of Finance, Government of Canada.

Ko-Jen HSIANG (Taiwan), IIEL Fellow

LL.M., Georgetown Law. Ms. Hsiang graduated from the National Taiwan University (Taipei, Taiwan, R.O.C.), where she obtained her Bachelor of Laws degree with a focus on Economic and Financial Laws. Prior to starting the LL.M. program at Georgetown, Ms. Hsiang worked as an Enforcement Officer in the Administrative Enforcement Agency, Ministry of Justice in Taiwan for about two years. She supervised compulsory execution, against protest, of decisions on monetary obligations set forth in public laws with a focus on tax enforcement and tax evasion investigations. Ms. Hsiang also passed the Taiwan bar exam and was a patent agent in Taiwan. Upon graduation, she took a position handling WTO and other international trade issues for the Bureau of Foreign Trade in Taiwan's Ministry of Economic Affairs.

Ruth JIN (China), IIEL Fellow

LL.M., Georgetown Law.

Woojung KIM (South Korea), IIEL Fellow

J.D., Georgetown Law; M.Phil. in International Relations, University of Oxford, United Kingdom,

Swire Scholar; B.A. in Business Administration, Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea. Miss Kim worked as a reporter for Joongang Daily Newspaper in Seoul, Korea. She also worked as a researcher at the Institute for Far Eastern Studies (IFES) and as assistant editor of Asian Perspective, published by the IFES and Portland State University. While at Georgetown she worked as a research assistant for Professor John H. Jackson and the IIEL. As of July 2008 she was as Associate in the Hong Kong office of Debevoise & Plimpton.

Natalia LAZAROVA (Bulgaria), IIEL Fellow
LL.M. candidate Georgetown Law.

LIU Songtao (China), IIEL Fellow
See entry for 2002-2003 Academic Year, above.

María Eugenia LLOREDA (Colombia), IIEL Fellow
Ms. Lloreda earned her M.S. in Foreign Service at Georgetown University and her J.D. from Los Andes University in Bogota, Colombia. She was an IIEL Fellow in 2003-2004 and again in 2004-2005 as an LL.M. candidate. Before coming to Georgetown, she served in the Ministry of Foreign Trade in Bogota in various capacities as: the coordinator for trade relations with the U.S. and Canada, Colombia's representative on the Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA) Institutional Committee, and an attorney in the Economic Integration Department. She also was a summer intern at Transparency International, where she analyzed the free trade agreements (FTAs) signed by the U.S. and drafted recommendations to the U.S. government on transparency provisions for future FTAs, particularly in government procurement and investment.

Gustavo LUENGO (Spain), IIEL Fellow
LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law. Mr. Luengo also was a Ph.D. candidate in International Law at the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (U.A.M.). His research focused on subsidies and international trade. Prior to coming to Georgetown Law, Mr. Luengo was an associate lawyer at Van Bael & Bellis (Brussels, Belgium), giving advice on antitrust and trade issues. His background includes an LL.M. in European Law (U.A.M), being honored as the best student, and a nine-month internship at the European Commission (DG COMP), where he was actively involved in the reform of the Block Exemption Regulation on Motor-Vehicle Distribution.

Kazumi NISHIKAWA (Japan), IIEL Fellow
LL.M., Georgetown Law. Kazumi Nishikawa graduated from the Faculty of Law of University of Tokyo in 1996. He worked at the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (METI, formerly known as MITI), dealing with legal affairs and international trade policy. He received an LL.M. degree (business law) from Northwestern University School of Law in May 2003. At Georgetown Law, he concentrated on international trade law studies for his future career as a Japanese international trade policy administrator.

Kayo NISHIMURA (Japan), IIEL Fellow
LL.M., Georgetown Law

Pauni de Jesus OBREGON (Nicaragua), IIEL Fellow
LL.M., Georgetown Law (Fulbright Scholar); Licenciado en Derecho from the Universidad Centroamericana at Managua, Nicaragua. Mr. Obregon has lectured in Introduction to Law I, II and Tax Law at the Universidad Centroamericana School of Law. A contributor to the op-ed pages of the Nicaraguan daily "EL Nuevo Diario" he is also the author of "Evolución histórica de las Contrataciones Administrativas del Estado: La ficción de fiscalizar", Marco Jurídico de la Participación Ciudadana" and "Nombre de Dominio de las Sociedades Anónimas en Nicaragua".

Zarana OOMRIGAR (India), IIEL Fellow
LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law

Jose Antonio RIVAS-CAMPO (Colombia), IIEL Fellow

S.J.D. Candidate, LL.M., Georgetown Law (Fulbright Scholar); Law and Economics degrees, Universidad de los Andes, Bogotá, Colombia. Mr. Rivas-Campo researches the economic and legal consequences, under the WTO and GATT Article XXIV, of free trade agreements (FTA) and their rules of origin, on non-FTA members. IN 2003-2004, he was a research assistant to Professor John H. Jackson and during year 2000, he also assisted Georgetown Law Professor Viet Dinh. Previously, he was a Professor of International Public Law and a researcher of humanitarian law at Los Andes University in Bogotá where he co-wrote a textbook on Public International Law. In 2001 and 2002 he served as an intern to Judges Ricardo M. Urbina and Henry H. Kennedy Jr. at the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Also, before coming to the U.S. he served as intern to Judge Eduardo Cifuentes-Muñoz of the Constitutional Court of Colombia working primarily on human rights cases.

Andreas SENNEKAMP (Germany), IIEL Fellow

Mr. Sennekamp is a graduate of the University of Münster, Germany and he pursued legal studies at the Universities of Passau, Germany and Lausanne, Switzerland. He obtained the Second State Examination in Law at the Cologne County Court. While at Georgetown Law, he participated on the winning Team in the 2004 Sidley – IIEL WTO Moot Court Competition, and in summer 2004 he served as a research assistant at the IIEL. After graduating from Georgetown, he worked at the OECD Trade Directorate in Paris and at the law firm Sidley Austin LLP in Geneva. He currently works as Legal Officer at the Appellate Body Secretariat of the World Trade Organization.

Natalia SLUGA (Argentina), IIEL Fellow
LL.M., Georgetown Law

Michael SOLURSH (Canada), IIEL Fellow

LL.M., Georgetown Law. Prior to attending Georgetown, Mr. Solursh worked for over two years at a prominent Canadian law firm, practising trade, corporate, and environmental law. In his trade law practice, Mr. Solursh had the opportunity to work on both the Bahamian and Russian accession bids to the WTO, and also participated in antidumping and safeguard disputes. Mr. Solursh holds a LL.B. from the University of Windsor Law School in Canada, and previously completed an honors political science degree in which he graduated with distinction from the University of Western Ontario. Mr. Solursh also worked with the Organization of American States, Secretariat for Legal Affairs, conducting research and writing scholarly papers respecting trade and investment agreements in the Western Hemisphere.

Li-Dar WANG (Taiwan), IIEL Fellow

LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law. Mr. Wang obtained LLB and LLM degrees from National Taiwan University (Taipei, Taiwan). His LLM thesis he wrote on legal and policy issues of government technology transfer to computer and semiconductor industries. Prior to attending Georgetown Law, Mr. Wang worked for 5 years at the Taiwan Fair Trade Commission (FTC). During the first half of that period, he engaged in investigations of anticompetitive business practices and unfair competition cases, especially relating to the liberalization of the petroleum industry. During the second half, he was the assistant to the Vice Chairperson, advising him on administrative law, antitrust and unfair competition issues. During 2002-2003, Mr. Wang was also an adjunct lecturer of law in National Taiwan University of Science and Technology. He has several publications on competition law and policies, administrative law, industrial policy and compulsory licensing of pharmaceutical patents.

ZHANG Chen (China), IIEL Fellow

J.D. candidate, Georgetown Law. Mr. Zhang holds a B.A. degree in English from Ocean University of Qingdao, a L.L.B. degree in Diplomacy from Foreign Affairs College, Beijing, an M.A. degree in Political Science from Washington University in St. Louis and an M.B.A. degree in Finance from University of Miami at Coral Gables. Prior to coming to Georgetown Law, Mr. Zhang worked as a senior analyst in the area of international business and direct marketing. He worked for a number of Fortune 500 companies and his latest position was senior research analyst for Sears Roebuck and Co. world headquarters in Hoffman Estates, Illinois. He also worked on anti-dumping proceedings as a law clerk with Grunfeld, Desiderio, Lebowitz, Silverman & Klestadt LLP, and as a law clerk for the international trade group of White & Case LLP.

2003-2004 IIEL Visiting Fellows

Claudio DORDI (Italy), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

See entry under 2002-2003 Academic Year.

Moshe HIRSCH (Israel), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

Werner MENG (Germany), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

See entry for 2001-2002 Academic Year.

Andrew MITCHELL (Australia), IIEL Visiting Fellow

Mr. Mitchell came to Georgetown Law as a Visiting Researcher, undertaking a PhD at the University of Cambridge on 'Core Principles of the WTO' as a WM Tapp Scholar at Gonville & Caius College and an Honorary Cambridge Commonwealth Trust Scholar. He practised law for several years in Australia with Allens Arthur Robinson and has also worked for law firms in New York and Vancouver. During his graduate studies he held positions as an economist with the International Monetary Fund (IMF), an intern in the Intellectual Property Division of the WTO, and a consultant to the Trade Directorate of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), working on issues related to the Joint Group on Trade and Competition. He was a Senior Fellow at the University of Melbourne Law School. He completed his undergraduate degrees in Law and Commerce at the University of Melbourne and completed graduate programmes in law at Harvard Law School and the University of Melbourne.

Isabelle VAN DAMME (Belgium), IIEL Visiting Fellow and IIEL Editorial Assistant

See Academic Year 2002-2003.

Tania VOON (Australia), IIEL Visiting Fellow

An Australian lawyer, Tania Voon came to Georgetown Law as a Visiting Researcher while pursuing a PhD at the University of Cambridge, as a WM Tapp Scholar at Gonville & Caius College, an Honorary Cambridge Commonwealth Trust Scholar, and Senior Fellow of the University of Melbourne Law School. Her research focused on Cultural Products in the World Trade Organization (WTO). She graduated with a Master of Laws from Harvard Law School and Bachelors of Laws and Science from the University of Melbourne. Before enrolling at Cambridge she practiced law for three years, first with the Australian Government Solicitor and later with Mallesons Stephen Jaques, a leading commercial law firm. Her practice focused on intellectual property, competition, technology and communications. During her graduate studies she has held positions as an intern with the Appellate Body Secretariat of the WTO, a consultant to the Environment Directorate of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), and an intern with the Office of Legal Affairs of the United Nations headquarters in New York.