

2004-2005 ACADEMIC YEAR

IIEL Student Fellows

Bui Ngoc ANH (Vietnam), S.J.D. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Gil AVRIEL (Israel), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Zartasha BAJWA (Pakistan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Felipe BERER (Brazil), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Jerónimo CARCELÉN (Chile), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kate CASSIDY (Australia), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Jaratrus CHAMRATRITHIRONG (Thailand), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Chen-Ju CHEN (Taiwan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Brett COFFEE (United States), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Govind DIXIT (India), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Kirti JADEJA (Canada), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Unyoung KIM (Korea), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Christophe LAROUER (France), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Guillaume LEMENEZ DE KERDELLEAU (France), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
María Eugenia LLOREDA (Colombia), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Oleh MALSKYY (Ukraine), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Marco Tulio MONTAÑÉS-RUMAYOR (Mexico), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Khalid MOUTAWAKKIL (France & Morocco), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Rahoul ROY (India), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Tatjana SASCHE (Germany), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Miguel SILOS (Philippines), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Min Jeong SUH (Korea), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Xiaoyi TANG (China), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Rui WEI (China), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Maki YAMADA-KUNIMATSU (Japan), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Eun Jung YOO (Korea), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Helge ZEITLER (Germany), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.
Longyue ZHAO (China), M.P.M. Candidate, Georgetown University.
Katrina ZIALCITA (Philippines), LL.M. Candidate, Georgetown Law.

IIEL Visiting Fellows

Mads ANDENAS (Norway), Director, British Institute of International and Comparative Law.
Welber BARRAL (Brazil), Professor of Law, Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina, Brazil.
Andrea BIONDI (Italy), Senior Lecturer, Kings College London.
Emilio CÁRDENAS (Argentina), President, International Bar Association.
Paolo FARAH (Italy), Ph.D. candidate, University of Milan, Italy.
Kaoru HARADA (Japan), Visiting Researcher, Georgetown Law.
Han LONG (China), Professor, Law School of Central South University, China.
Werner MENG (Germany), Professor, University of Saarbruecken.
Sylvia PINHEIRO (Brazil), Ph.D. candidate, State University of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.
Seema SAPRA (India), Ph.D. candidate, Kings College London; JIEL Editorial Assistant.
Alastair SUTTON (UK), Professor of Law, University College London.
Bertil WIMAN (Sweden), Professor of Law, Stockholm School of Economics, Sweden.
Hu XIAOHONG (China), Professor, Law School of Lanzhou University, China.

2004-2005 IIEL Distinguished Visiting Fellow

Emilio CÁRDENAS (Argentina), IIEL Distinguished Visiting Fellow (Spring 2005)

Ambassador Cárdenas was President of the International Bar Association for the period 2003-2005, and is the former Executive-Director of HSBC Argentina Holdings S.A. Since 1998 he has been a member of the United Nations Pension Fund Investment Committee. In 2004 (winter term) he was a visiting professor at the University of Michigan Law School. For more than twenty years he was a Professor of Law at the University of Buenos Aires, Catholic University of Argentina and the University of Illinois. He is the author of several books and numerous articles on oil and gas legal matters, foreign investment topics, privatizations and financial and other related matters. He also practiced law as the Senior Partner at Cárdenas, Cassagne & Asociados, a firm he helped organize, advising national and foreign clients in the fields of international business transactions, oil and gas, joint-ventures, privatizations, infrastructure projects, and project financing. During the 1990's, he served as Ambassador and Argentina's Permanent Representative to the United Nations and Argentina's Ambassador to Dominica and Guyana. As such, he was a non-permanent member of the United Nations Security Council for two years. He chaired the Sanctions Committee for the former-Yugoslavia and was Vice-President of the United Nations Economic and Social Council. He also was appointed Personal Representative of the UN Secretary General to Iraq and negotiated in Baghdad with Saddam Hussein's regime on various issues related to weapons of mass destruction. In 1996 he returned to the private sector.

2004-2005 IIEL Student Fellows

Bui Ngoc ANH (Vietnam) – IIEL Fellow

Prior to attending Georgetown Law, Mr. Anh was a legal expert at the Institute of Americas Studies, Vietnamese Academy of Social Sciences, and at the U.S.-Vietnam Trade Council. He graduated from Hanoi Law University in 1995 and spent six months in 1999 in the Post-Graduate Diploma Program in International Law and Organizations for Development at the Institute of Social Studies, the Hague, the Netherlands, with a particular focus on International Trade Law. He completed his LL.M. degree on trade laws in Vietnam in 2001 and participated in a six-week program at Lafayette College, Center for Government and Law under the Fulbright Program in 2003. In May 2007, he completed his S.J.D. (with distinction) at Georgetown Law. Mr. Anh now practices law at VILAF-Hong Duc on investment, trade and WTO issues in Vietnam. He is also an adjunct lecturer at the Judicial Academy, Ministry of Justice.

Gil AVRIEL (Israel) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Avriel received his LL.B (with distinction) from Netanya Academic College in Israel. After graduation, Mr. Avriel worked as an intern at the National Public Defender Chamber, in the Israeli Ministry of Justice, where he handled promotion of human rights legislation, and indigents' appeals to the Israeli Supreme Court. Prior to attending Georgetown, Mr. Avriel was a Guest Research Fellow at the China National Center of WTO Studies at the University of International Business and Economics (U.I.B.E) in Beijing, P.R. China.

Zartasha BAJWA (Pakistan) – IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Bajwa obtained her LL.B. in 2003 at the University of London (external program) in Islamabad, Pakistan, where she was Editor in Chief of the Law Journal and President of the International Law Society. Before coming to Georgetown, she was a Legal Associate with Masroor Shah & Associates in Islamabad. Concurrent with her studies at Georgetown, she was a consultant to the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies, advising on a project dealing with economic development, diversity issues and minority rights in Pakistan and Afghanistan.

Felipe BERER (Brazil) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Berer is an International Trade Adviser at Bryan Cave

LLP. Beforehand, he was a legal trainee with the Trade Policy Division of the Brazilian Embassy in Washington, DC. Prior to attending Georgetown, he practiced as an associate lawyer at Barbosa, Müssnich & Aragão Advogados (Brazil), where he advised clients on corporate and banking matters as well as capital markets regulations and investments in Brazil. Mr. Berer holds a Bachelor of Laws degree from Pontifical Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Jerónimo CARCELÉN (Chile) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Carcelén is a law graduate of the Universidad Católica de Chile and holds a Master's in Economics and Finance for Lawyers from Universidad de Chile. His thesis topic was entitled "Free Trade Agreement Between Chile and South Korea." In 2000, he was a member of the official delegation of Chile at the meeting of the Legal Working Group of the Basel Convention on the Transboundary Movement of Hazardous Wastes and their Disposal. Starting in 2001, Mr. Carcelén had been an associate in the mining law group of the Santiago law firm of Cariola, Diez, Perez-Cotapos & Cia.

Kate CASSIDY (Australia) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Cassidy earned both her Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Laws degrees from the University of Adelaide. Prior to attending Georgetown, she was employed as a Foreign Intern in the Washington, D.C. office of the law firm Willkie, Farr, & Gallagher LLP, where she participated in defending Vietnam in the U.S. anti-dumping case of Frozen and Canned Warmwater Shrimp. Prior to that, she worked as a Foreign Intern at the law firm of Olsson, Frank & Weeda, also in Washington, where she was responsible for researching and publishing an article promoting improved trade practices in meat and poultry.

Jaratus CHAMRATRITHIRONG (Thailand) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2004 and LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Before coming to Georgetown as a Thai Government Scholar, Ms. Chamrathirong earned her LL.B. and M.A. from Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok. Previously she served as assistant to the Prime Minister's Advisor in the Thai Government House in Bangkok. Prior to that, she was a summer law clerk at the firm of Baker & McKenzie, also in Bangkok. Her interests include international trade and health, international trade and environment, and free trade agreements (FTAs). Following her graduation from Georgetown Law, she enrolled at Duke University Law School to pursue doctoral studies, and she was invited to serve an internship in the Legal Affairs Division of the WTO Secretariat in 2006.

Chen-Ju CHEN (Taiwan) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Chen was a first-year SJD student of the Institute of the Law of the Sea, National Taiwan Ocean University before attending Georgetown, and she earned a Master of Law degree in June 2004 from the same school. She earned a Bachelor of Laws degree from the Department of Law, National Taiwan University, in February 2002. When she was a research assistant at National Taiwan Ocean University, her studies were focused on the Law of the Sea. After obtaining here LL.M. at Georgetown, she pursued her PhD study at the International Max Planck Research School for Maritime Affairs at the University of Hamburg, Germany. Her PhD research focuses on fisheries subsidies.

Brett COFFEE (United States) - IIEL Fellow

Mr. Coffee was a Fellow while enrolled in the LL.M. program in Taxation at Georgetown Law. He holds an LL.M. in Corporate and Business Law and a Diploma in Taxation from the University of San Diego School of Law, and he obtained his J.D. from Fordham University Law School and his B.A. from the University of Illinois. Mr. Coffee previously worked as in-house counsel to two international technology companies headquartered in California, and he also was in private practice in New York City, most recently with the international firm of Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle, engaged in international corporate transactions with a focus on securities, corporate finance, and technology transactions.

Govind DIXIT (India) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2008, Georgetown Law. Mr. Dixit is an officer from the Indian Customs Service with more than 15 years of experience in the formulation and implementation of trade and customs policy in India. Prior to his studies at Georgetown Law, he obtained a mid-career Master's degree from the Elliott School of International Affairs, George Washington University, in the International Policy and Practice Program with a concentration in International Trade and Development. He holds an LL.B. from Delhi University, and a Master of Arts degree in History with a concentration in Medieval European History. At Georgetown he is pursuing his LL.M. as a part-time student while working at the International Monetary Fund.

Kirti JADEJA (Canada) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Jadeja is a member of the Law Society of Upper Canada and the New York State Bar, and is admitted to practice before the U.S. Court of International Trade. She received her LL.B. from Dalhousie Law School in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and her B.A. from Dalhousie University. Since January 2000, she had served as Counsel in the Trade Law Bureau, Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT), Government of Canada, representing Canada in international trade disputes arising under the WTO and other trade agreements. She also served as a Trade Policy Officer in the DFAIT Investment and Trade Policy Division, and as legal assistant to a panelist on two binational panels under Chapter 19 of the NAFTA. Prior to her government service, she was an Articled Clerk at Perley-Robertson, Hill & McDougall, LLP in Ottawa.

Unyoung KIM (Korea) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Kim holds a Ph.D. in economics from New York University and has been an associate professor and dean (2001-2003) at the Halla University School of Economics and Trade in the Republic of Korea since 1998. Before that, she held several research positions, including with the Kangwon Provincial Office in their Department of Industry and Trade and Korea Institute of Science and Technology. She earned her Bachelor of Laws from Korea National Open University (KNOU) while working as a professor, and she is particularly interested in enhancing Korea's ability to negotiate in international society.

Christophe LAROUER (France) - IIEL Fellow

Beginning in November 2009, Mr. Larouer is Special Assistant and Speechwriter to the U.S. Ambassador to France. Mr. Larouer was an IIEL Fellow in 2004-2005 while he was a Georgetown Law LL.M. candidate; and he continued as a Fellow from 2007 to 2009 as an S.J.D. candidate at Georgetown Law and as research assistant to Professor John H. Jackson. During that time, he also wrote and edited legal documents and speeches in French/English for Associate Justice Stephen G. Breyer of the U.S. Supreme Court. Prior to studying at Georgetown, he practiced with Deprez-Dian-Guignot & Associés in Paris, France, where he focused on intellectual property law and litigated before the World Intellectual Property Organization. His legal scholarship is in the area of international economic law and European law. He recently published In the Name of Sovereignty? The Battle over In Dubio Mitius Inside and Outside the Courts, Cornell Law School Graduate Student Papers Series No. 22 (2009), and WTO Non-Violation Complaints: A Misunderstood Remedy in the WTO Dispute Settlement System, 53(1) Netherlands Intl. L. Rev. 97-126 (2006) Cambridge University Press. Mr. Larouer holds an LL.M. in International Legal Studies (with distinction) from Georgetown Law, the WTO Certificate from the Institute of International Economic Law, and an LL.M. in International and European Law from the University of Nice School of Law. He is admitted to the New York Bar. [Updated November 2009]

Guillaume LEMENEZ DE KERDELLEAU (France) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Lemenez de Kerdellean earned a master's degree in international law with a major in international economic law at Panthéon-Sorbonne University (Paris I) and remained there for post-graduate studies in international economic law where his research focused on the environmental considerations of international construction projects, with particular emphasis on water infrastructure projects. Mr. Lemenez de Kerdellau also conducted part-time legal research for the law firm of Marc Frilet & Associés, specializing in international investment project consulting. Additionally, he was captain of his moot court team focused on an international commercial legal issue.

María Eugenia LLOREDA (Colombia) - IIEL Fellow

See entry for 2004-2005 Academic Year, above.

Oleh MALSKYY (Ukraine) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Malsky earned a Master of International Law and Economics at the World Trade Institute, University of Berne in 2002. In Spring 2004 he was a trainee-lawyer at Herbert Smith in Brussels specializing in WTO/Trade law. Prior to that, he was a trainee-lawyer in Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering's International Trade group in Brussels. His other professional experience includes work with the European Commission DG Trade group and an internship with UNCTAD. Mr. Malsky has published two books on WTO law in English, and while he was at IIEL, he was preparing a handbook on WTO law in Ukrainian.

Marco Tulio MONTAÑÉS-RUMAYOR (Mexico) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. candidate, Georgetown Law. Mr. Montañés was an associate professor of law at the Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey in Mexico, where he taught International Law and a Seminar on Dispute Settlement in Economic Law. He is studying the need for appellate structures in international economic law, and the linkages between trade and investment.

Khalid MOUTAWAKKIL (France & Morocco) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Moutawakkil holds an M.A. in International Relations from the International University of Japan and a Master of Laws in Private Law from the University of Paris. Since 2000, he has served as in-house securities attorney for the Tokyo branch of CDC IXIS Capital Markets. Prior to that, he was an independent consultant on EU Single Market Regulation and an intern at the European Commission, Directorate General Internal Market. He has a particular interest in the field of law and development.

Rahoul ROY (India) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Roy earned his B.A. and LL.B. (with honors) from the National Law School of India University. Since 2002, he has worked at the law firm of Poovayya & Co., where he is a Partner of the Technology and Outsourcing Practice Group, working on matters related to offshore outsourcing in the information technology enabled services sector. Mr. Roy continued his focus on research on the offshore outsourcing industry and especially the response to offshore outsourcing, while attending Georgetown.

Tatjana SASCHE (Germany)- IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Sachse worked in both the public and private sectors in Brussels before attending Georgetown Law. In 2003-2004 she was in-house counsel at Matsushita Electric Europe, dealing mainly with EU antitrust, pan-European contract and trade and customs issues. She previously worked at Oppenheimer Wolff and Donnelly, LLP, and served an internship in DG Trade at the European Commission. Ms. Sachse earned her LL.B. in 1998 from the University of East Anglia, and completed the Legal Practice Course at the College of Law, Guildford, UK, in 1999. After graduating from Georgetown Law, she joined the Geneva office of Sidley Austin, LLP.

Miguel SILOS (Philippines) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Silos was a litigation lawyer in Manila prior to attending Georgetown Law. His practice included litigation before the Philippine Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court, and he actively participated in one of the first import "safeguard" actions initiated in the Philippines. He holds a J.D.

degree from Ateneo de Manila School of Law (1998), and a B.S. in Business Management from Ateneo de Manila College of Arts and Sciences (1994).

Min Jeong SUH (Korea) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Suh had been serving as a diplomat in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Republic of Korea, since 2001. Her assignments at the Ministry included service in the European Affairs Bureau and the Economic Cooperation Division of the International Economic Affairs Bureau. In her most recent assignment, she was in charge of bilateral economic treaties and negotiations between the Republic of Korea and other countries on aerial navigation and social security. She received her LL.B. from the College of Law, Seoul National University, Korea, and has a B.A. in Political Science and Diplomacy with an Economics minor.

Xiaoyi TANG (China) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Mr. Tang attended the Shanghai Institute of Foreign Trade for both a Bachelor Degree of Economics and a Master of Laws, completing his studies in 2000. After that, he worked at the Shanghai WTO Affairs Consultation Center as Associate Director of the Legal Consulting Division. His major projects have involved various antidumping cases and research. Meanwhile, he helped Central and local government to amend regulations in the international trade area to comply with China's WTO accession commitments. In 2002, Mr. Tang spent 3 months in the D.C. office of Mayer, Brown, Rowe and Maw as an international scholar funded by the Shanghai government. Mr. Tang also has written several publications, addressing dumping and WTO issues.

Rui WEI (China) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Wei earned a Bachelor of Law degree in 1996 from the University of International Business and Economics in Beijing. Ms. Wei then worked at King and Wood for two years. She later completed a Master of Laws degree in 2002 from Seikei University in Tokyo, with an emphasis on intellectual property law. During her masters studies, Ms. Wei worked at a Japanese patent firm. Upon graduation from Seikei University in 2002, Ms. Wei returned to her employment as an attorney with King and Wood in Beijing.

Maki YAMADA-KUNIMATSU (Japan) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Maki Yamada-Kunimatsu studied International Legal Studies at Sophia University Faculty of Law. Prior to her studies at Georgetown, she was a Senior Analyst in the Trade Policy Unit, Frontier Strategy Department of UFJ Institute Ltd., where she studied the WTO, FTAs and other trade policies. From 1996 to 1998, she handled WTO services negotiations as Special Assistant to the Ambassador in the Japanese Mission in Geneva, and from 1993 to 1996 and 1998 to 2000, she served in the Japan Federation of Economic Organizations (Keidanren) where she worked on trade and investment issues including WTO and Japan-US economic relations. After completing her studies at Georgetown, Ms. Yamada planned to continue her work at the UFJ Institute Ltd., particularly in the area of trade in services.

Eun Jung YOO (Korea) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Yoo completed her Master of Legal Institutions degree at the University of Wisconsin Law School in 2004 and she earned her Master of Law and Bachelor of Law degrees from Sookmyung Women's University in Korea. From 1997 to 2003, Ms. Yoo served in various capacities in the Division of Law at Sookmyung Women's University, most recently as an instructor teaching Introduction to Constitutional Law. Ms. Yoo has a particular interest in the impact of international economic law on human rights, and plans on a career as a professor of law.

Helge ZEITLER (Germany) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. (with distinction) 2005, Georgetown Law. Dr. Zeitler earned her Doctorate in Law in 2000 at University of Freiburg, Germany, and her thesis was on WTO Law and the unilateral enforcement of social and environmental standards through trade sanctions. Ms. Zeitler had worked in the Foreign Office in Berlin as Desk Officer for EU Law, where her work concentrated on sanction regimes. Prior to that, she was a lawyer for procurement law at the law firm of DeWitt Oppler in Berlin. Additionally, Ms. Zeitler was a postgraduate judicial service trainee at the UN International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda and was an intern at UN High Commissioner for Human Rights in Geneva. Following her graduation from Georgetown Law, Ms. Zeitler served an internship at the WTO Secretariat and then joined the staff of the EU Commission in Brussels. Starting in September 2008, Ms. Zeitler took a position in Arusha, Tanzania, at the UN International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (on leave from the Commission) as Special Assistant to the President of the Tribunal.

Longyue ZHAO (China), IIEL Fellow

M.P.M., Georgetown Public Policy Institute. Mr. Zhao holds a Ph.D. in Economics from Renmin University of China in Beijing. An experienced economist, Mr. Zhao has worked part-time as a consultant to the World Bank. His work experience includes serving as Deputy Director General of the Department of International Cooperation, Ministry of Agriculture of China from 1998-2002, where he engaged in bilateral and multilateral negotiations on investment and trade issues; Executive Vice Mayor of the City of Wujiang in the Jiangsu Province of China, where he supervised fiscal, financial, and other economic and social development affairs for the city of 800,000; and Economist for China's State Policy Research Office and Development Planning Commission, where he researched and analyzed China's national economic and social development policies, GATT/WTO, and the world economy. He would like to work on trade and WTO issues for China and other developing countries in the future.

Katrina ZIALCITA (Philippines) - IIEL Fellow

LL.M. 2005, Georgetown Law. Ms. Zialcita obtained her J.D. from Ateneo de Manila University School of Law in 2002. After that, she worked as a Legal Technical Assistant to the Executive Secretary in the Office of the President of the Philippines. Among other duties, she served as a representative to the Committee on Tariff and Related Measures of the National Economic and Development Authority, assisted and advised on matters related to organizational development, management and audit improvement and internal control policies, programs and activities in the Office of the President, and she reviewed and provided research assistance on appealed cases from administrative agencies to the Office of the President. She was also concurrently a College Instructor teaching both Philippine Income and Business Taxation.

2004-2005 IIEL Visiting Fellows

Mads ANDENAS (Norway), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow, (Spring 2005)

Professor Andenas was the Director of the British Institute of International & Comparative Law (BIICL) at the time of his IIEL Fellowship. He is Norwegian by citizenship, and had been in the United Kingdom for some fifteen years. He previously was on the Faculty at King's College, University of London where he directed the Centre of European Law. Professor Andenas was also a Senior Fellow in European Community Law at the Institute of European and Comparative Law, University of Oxford and a Fellow of Harris Manchester College, University of Oxford. He joined IIEL as a Visiting Professorial Fellow from January to March 2005.

Welber BARRAL (Brazil), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

Prof. Barral is Professor of International Economic Law at Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina in Brazil, where he teaches in the undergraduate and graduate law programs. He is a visiting professor at the Universidad de Valencia (Spain) and at Vytautas Magnus Universitas (Lithuania). He is also on the roster of panelists for MERCOSUR and for WTO. Prof. Barral is the author of numerous publications on international trade and regional integration in Latin America. While at IIEL, Prof. Barral concentrated his research on trade remedies policy.

Andrea BIONDI (Italy), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow (Fall 2004)

Prof. Biondi is Senior Lecturer and Co-Director of the Centre of European Law at Kings College London. He is also Professor at the College of Europe in Natolin (Poland). He is a member of the Bar of Florence as well as being an Academic Member of 2 Harcourt Buildings Chambers in London. Prof. Biondi is on the International Advisory Board of European Public Law and serves as Annual Rapporteur on Internal Market Affairs for the Yearbook of European Law. Among his publications is The Law of State Aid in the European Union, published in 2003, for which he served as editor. He taught European Union Law I at Georgetown Law in Fall 2004.

Paolo FARAH (Italy), IIEL Visiting Fellow (Fall 2004)

Mr. Farah holds a Masters degree in European Community law from the College of Europe, Bruges, Belgium, and a J.D. in International and European Law from Paris X Nanterre University. He is a Ph.D. candidate in International Law at University of Milan and University of Aix Marseilles III. His thesis is entitled "China's accession to the WTO and the Problem of Regionalism." Mr. Farah's professional experience includes an internship with the Legal Affairs Office of the WTO in Geneva and a junior associateship with the law firm of Baker & McKenzie in Milan.

Kaoru HARADA (Japan), IIEL Visiting Fellow, (Fall 2004)

See entry for Academic Year 2004-2005, above.

Han LONG (China), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

Prof. Long teaches in the areas of international economic law and international law at the Law School of Central South University in China. He earned his Ph.D. at the Law School of Wuhan University. Prof. Long has published extensively in his main field of interest, the WTO and Financial Law.

Werner MENG (Germany), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow (Fall 2004)

See entry for 2001-2002 Academic Year, above.

Sylvia PINHEIRO (Brazil), IIEL Visiting Fellow (Fall 2004)

Ms. Pinheiro is a Ph.D. candidate studying public international law at the State University of Rio de Janeiro. She is also a partner in the law firm of Guedes & Pinheiro, which specializes in international economic law, and has assisted the Brazilian government in the negotiation of the anti-dumping agreement during the Doha negotiations and private firms in anti-dumping, subsidies, and safeguards actions. Ms. Pinheiro is the author of several publications in the areas of dumping, subsidies, and safeguards.

Seema SAPRA (India), IIEL Visiting Fellow

Ms. Sapra is a law Ph.D. candidate at Kings College London who spent the 2004-2005 year at Georgetown Law as the Editorial Assistant of the Journal of International Economic Law. She obtained her LLB from the University of Delhi in 1995 and practiced law in the Supreme Court of India and the Delhi High Court from 1995-2001. She completed her LLM in Public International Law at the University of Leicester in the UK in 2003. In 2002-2003, Ms. Sapra spent six months as a legal intern at the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda. She is currently working on her Ph.D. thesis under the supervision of Professor Piet Eeckhout at Kings College London. Her thesis is on special and more favourable treatment provided by the EC to developing countries in international trade and its impact on framing new trade rules at the WTO.

Alastair SUTTON (UK), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

Mr. Sutton is a visiting professor of European and International Trade Law at University College London and a partner in the law firm of White & Case in Brussels. His practice focuses on EU economic and constitutional law, the law of the internal market, external economic relations, financial services, taxation, competition, state aids law, energy policy, and environmental protection. He has conducted litigation in a number of cases involving EU law before the Courts in Luxembourg. As a former EU trade negotiator, WTO law is also an important part of Mr. Sutton's practice. Prior to engaging in law practice, Mr. Sutton was an official in the European Commission for 16 years. He also taught EU law and public international law at the University of London, and was Visiting Lecturer in European Law at the University of Cambridge.

Bertil WIMAN (Sweden), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow

Prof. Wiman is Professor of Tax Law at the Stockholm School of Economics where he teaches Basic Tax Law, Business Taxation and International Tax. Some major recent articles include topics such as concealed dividends in corporate reorganizations (2004) and international tax aspects of the Swedish group taxation system (2003). He also is the author of books on section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code; Transfer Pricing and Multinational Enterprises; Taxation of consolidated groups; and Taxation of related enterprise. While visiting at Georgetown Law, Prof. Wiman taught European Community Tax Law in Fall 2004 and European Corporate Taxation in Spring 2005.

Hu XIAOHONG (China), IIEL Visiting Professorial Fellow (Fall 2004)

Prof. Hu is a Professor at the Law School of Lanzhou University in Gansu Province. Her teaching and research interests include international economic law and environmental law systems, and her latest research interest is on green barriers to international trade.