

BIO

Juliet Aiken, Ph.D. is the Deputy Director of the Center of the Study for the Legal Profession. Juliet works with the Executive Director and the co-Directors of the Center to conduct research on the legal profession and executive education programs sponsored by the Center. She supports Center Conferences and other initiatives sponsored by the Center, and contribute to the design, methodology and analysis on empirical and qualitative research relevant to those working within the legal profession. Her primary research interests encompass diversity, leadership, selection and assessment, and statistics/measurement. She also assists Georgetown Law in developing and analyzing data aimed at enhancing the school's ability to fulfill its mission. Prior to her work with the Center, she consulted with a number of companies and individuals on research design and analysis.