Georgetown Disclaimer:

The policy of the Georgetown University Law Center is to provide equal opportunity in its programs, activities, and employment practices; to prohibit discrimination and harassment in education and employment because of age, color, disability, family responsibilities, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, personal appearance, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, veteran's status or any other factor prohibited by law. Employers who use our career services are required to comply with our non-discrimination policy. The U.S. military does not comply with this policy. Nonetheless, the Law Center does permit the military to use our career services. The sole reason for this exception is the Solomon Amendment, which as currently interpreted requires schools to give military recruiters access or risk the loss of all federal funds to the entire University.
