

GEORGETOWN LAW JOURNAL

ANNUAL REVIEW OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

The Georgetown Law Journal Annual Review of Criminal Procedure (ARCP), formerly titled the Criminal Procedure Project, has been hailed as “the most important and widely used law review publication in the U.S.” The next edition of the ARCP will be published in July 2015

Please note this is the only publication available at a discount. This discounted rate is only honored for orders sent directly to correctional facilities. Refunds are not available. All other Georgetown Law publications are academic in nature and unlikely to be of assistance in gaining review of convictions or filing new claims. We hope that this information will be of assistance to you.
