The Annual Review of Criminal Procedure is a comprehensive survey of federal criminal procedure and a "must-have" reference guide for criminal law practitioners. The Annual Review provides an objective, concise, and accurate overview of criminal procedure rules and developments in the United States Supreme Court and each of the 12 Federal Circuit Courts. The publication thoroughly covers the entire criminal process: from investigation and arrest through habeas review and prisoners’ rights. Each year, our editors work hard to update the Annual Review to reflect recent cases, illustrating the rules of law for each topic. It is a first stop for legal research, an indispensable courtroom resource, and a perfect asset for unanticipated courtroom issues.

Designed to be practical and easy to navigate, the Annual Review is an invaluable tool used by judges, defense attorneys and prosecutors alike. I encourage you to order your copy today! For questions or to place your order, please call 202-662-9457 or visit www.law.georgetown.edu/cle/publications.cfm.

Tiffany R. Wright
Editor-in-Chief, Annual Review of Criminal Procedure, 41st ed.

41ST EDITION CHAPTERS

Preface: From Attorney General Eric Holder

I. Investigation and Police Practices
   a. Overview of the Fourth Amendment
   b. The Warrant Requirement
   c. Warrantless Searches and Seizures
   d. Electronic Surveillance
   e. Identifications
   f. Custodial Interrogations
   g. The Exclusionary Rule

II. Preliminary Proceedings
   a. Prosecutorial Discretion
   b. Preliminary Hearings
   c. Grand Jury
   d. Indictments
   e. Joinder and Severance
   f. Bail
   g. Discovery and Access to Evidence
   h. Speedy Trial
   i. Guilty Pleas
   j. Competency to Stand Trial
   k. Double Jeopardy

III. Trials
   a. Right to Counsel
   b. Right to a Jury Trial
   c. Influences on the Jury
   d. Authority of the Trial Judge
   e. Prosecutorial Misconduct
   f. Fifth Amendment at Trial
   g. Sixth Amendment at Trial
   h. Proof Issues

IV. Sentencing
   a. Sentencing Guidelines
   b. Probation
   c. Supervised Release
   d. Restitution
   e. Capital Punishment
   f. Parole

V. Review Proceedings
   a. New Trial
   b. Appeals
   c. Appellate Review of Sentences
   d. Habeas Relief for State Prisoners
   e. 28 U.S.C. § 2255 Relief for Federal Prisoners

VI. Prisoners’ Rights
   a. Substantive Rights Retained by Prisoners
   b. Procedural Means of Enforcement
“The Annual Review of Criminal Procedure analyzes virtually every aspect of the criminal process from investigation and prosecution of crimes, through the sentencing, appeal and post-conviction process, to constitutional rights retained by prisoners.”

Justice William Brennan, U.S. Supreme Court

ORDER FORM

PLEASE PRINT CLEARLY OR TYPE. Payment must accompany order.

Number of copies ____________

Name: Mr. Ms.

Email address:

Firm/Organization:

Address:

City: __________________________ State: ______ Zip: __________

Phone: ( ) Fax: ( )

FOUR EASY WAYS TO ORDER

1. ONLINE www.law.georgetown.edu/cle

2. MAIL with check payable to "Georgetown Law ARCP" to

Georgetown University Law Center
Office of Journal Administration
600 New Jersey Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20001

Check enclosed # $ ____________

or purchase order may be attached to this form #________________________

3. PHONE 202-662-9457 (credit card orders only)

4. FAX 202-662-9891 (credit card/PO orders only)

☒ VISA ☒ MC ☒ AMEX

Card #: __________________________ Expiration Date: __________________________

Signature:

Mandatory state tax will be assessed on orders shipped to DC (6%), VA (5%), MD (6%), NY (7%) and PA (6% or 7% from Philadelphia or Allegheny Counties). Please add tax to your payment.

QUESTIONS?
Call: 202-662-9457
Email: criminalprocedure@law.georgetown.edu

GEORGETOWN LAW