

GREETINGS FROM STREET LAW

Our community's generous support has been at the core of another impactful year for Street Law. Because of Street Law champions like you, we've equipped law students, high school students, and communities with the tools to understand the law and create meaningful change. Together, we cultivate active citizenship and nurture the next generation of legal professionals. This year has been full of significant milestones we want to share with you.

GEORGETOWN LAW

Empowering Young(er) Learners

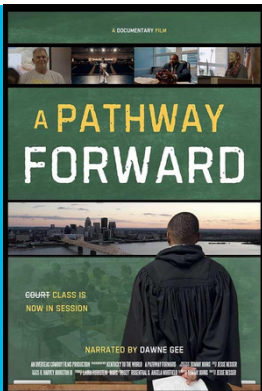

We piloted a Street Law program at a local middle school for sixth through eighth grade students. Each day their critical thinking, public speaking, and leadership skills grow while exploring justice, fairness, and advocacy.

Mock Trial Excellence

The 52nd Street Law Mock Trial tournament saw over two dozen teams compete. Students honed advocacy skills, while law students deepened their legal knowledge. In the final round, School Without Walls defeated Banneker High in a tournament round for the ages.

Removing Barriers to Legal Careers

Street Law secured five full-ride scholarships, valued at $17,000 each, for students to attend Georgetown's Summer Hoyas program. Malcolm, a standout from Anacostia High and leader in the Citywide Mock Trial competition, exemplifies its impact as he pursues dreams of law and football.

A Pathway Forward, released last year, showcases the transformative impact of Street Law in Louisville. Featuring Georgetown Law's Street Law Director Charisma Howell, it highlights how the program fosters confidence, advocacy, and legal understanding, inspiring other law schools to adopt these initiatives. A special thanks to Laura Rothstein, L'74, for bringing this documentary to life and allowing us to have its DC premiere at Georgetown Law's October 2024 Reunion.

Save the Date: Street Law's Third Annual Giving Day is April 2

Join us this April for our third annual giving day – more details will be coming soon in email and social media. If you can't wait to support our students and mission of fostering engaged citizens, you can give today at give.georgetown.edu/streetlaw or by scanning the QR code below. You can also give via the reply device included.

Thank you for being a part of the Street Law family – your generosity changes lives and we are deeply grateful for your support. Wishing you a wonderful year ahead!
