Eric E. Hotung International Law Building Lobby

Please join the Human Rights Institute for an informal event welcoming our human rights community back to campus. Institute staff, joined by faculty and representatives from students groups, will briefly describe the various human rights opportunities at Georgetown Law and discuss ways for students to become involved during the academic year. Dean Treanor will provide opening remarks. We hope that you will also be available to join us and catch up with the students, faculty, and staff who make the Law Center a leader in human rights scholarship, training, and advocacy.
