Name of Applicant

The Global Law Scholars Program is designed to provide a particularly focused experience for a small but diverse and accomplished group of students who have demonstrated commitment to the international sphere. A description of the Program and current participants is available online at <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/academics/academic-programs/transnational-programs/global-law-scholars/index.cfm>. Your application should clearly indicate your qualifications and interest in light of the Program's goals.

- I. Please attach a resume including academic experience, post-graduate experience, and/or internationally related activities in which you have participated.
- II. Please respond to the following questions on a separate sheet of paper
 - (1) Personal statement (maximum 500 words): How did you become interested in pursuing a career in international, comparative, and/or foreign law? What are your short-term and long-term goals?
 - (2) Please select one of the following prompts to respond to (maximum 300 words):
 - (a) Who has influenced you the most and why?
 - (b) Apart from international law, discuss something you are passionate about (does not have to be academic).
 - (c) How do you relax?
 - (d) What is your first job or a job not on your resume? What did you enjoy about it?
 - (3) Please list any academic coursework and/or activities that demonstrates a developing interest in transnational issues or legal practice. Include participation in any study abroad programs.

I would like to be selected as a Global Law Scholar. I have read the description of the Program on the website at <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/academics/academic-programs/transnational-programs/global-law-scholars/index.cfm>. By signing this, I certify that the statements made in this application are complete and accurate.
