“We invite you to share in the camaraderie of our community!”

Welcome to Georgetown Law and the Gewirz Student Center! You are now part of a unique living-learning community, dedicated to values that foster respect for each other and that enhance the academic mission. We believe that living according to these values requires us to show “active concern of each for the good of all in a common pursuit of wisdom.” As a Catholic and Jesuit University, Georgetown places special emphasis on the dignity and worth of every person and the love of truth. Membership in this community carries with it high expectations regarding the ways in which each person will act both within and beyond campus. In particular, students are expected to honor the following commitments in all their actions:

- A commitment to the highest standards of honesty and personal integrity both inside and outside the classroom.
- A commitment to treat others in a respectful manner, regardless of differences such as race, religion, nationality, ethnicity, gender, or sexual orientation.
- A commitment to open discourse and the free exchange of ideas.
- A commitment to exercise mutual care and responsibility in all relationships.
- A commitment to an active concern for the safety, security, and well-being of each individual and a respect for individual, communal and university property.

Because acting against these values undermines the very essence of community, we ask that you read through the Gewirz Academic Year Guide. Each resident is responsible for knowing and upholding the policies covered in the guide. However, mere observance of rules falls short of what we hope each individual can contribute to this community. Please help to make this a mutually beneficial learning environment in the coming year by supporting the university’s values.

Policies and Procedures

GEWIRZ STUDENT CENTER
Philosophy
The use of the Gewirz Student Center as a residence for approximately 290 students significantly enhances the educational, social, and recreational opportunities available to all members of the Law Center community. These opportunities will be maximized, however, only if each member of the community extends to his/her fellow residents the courtesies necessary to make each person's experience comfortable and pleasant. To that end, community guidelines have been developed, which each member of the community is expected to follow.

Please note that student residents of Gewirz are bound by these guidelines, as well as the Student Disciplinary Code published in the Georgetown Law Student Handbook of Academic Policies, which remains applicable to all students regardless of where they reside.

Sections 101-103 of the Student Disciplinary Code describe substantive violations as being in one of three categories:

Sec. 101 STANDARD OF CONDUCT
Without regard to motive, intentional student conduct that is dishonest, evidences lack of integrity or trustworthiness, or may unfairly impinge upon the rights or privileges of members of the Law Center Community is prohibited.

Sec. 102 ADMINISTRATIVE VIOLATIONS
Prohibited conduct that does not evidence a serious lack of honesty, integrity or trustworthiness on the part of the student engaged in such conduct constitutes an administrative violation, but does not constitute a disciplinary violation.

Sec. 103 DISCIPLINARY VIOLATIONS
Prohibited conduct that does evidence a serious lack of honesty, integrity or trustworthiness on the part of the student engaged in such conduct constitutes a disciplinary violation.

Resident Conduct Inquiry Procedure
Living in the Gewirz Student Center is a privilege and requires adherence to community living standards. Everyone in the building has the right to feel safe and secure in this environment. Any action that threatens or disrupts this community or its members may be subject to the following process. The goal is to resolve issues administratively when possible.

1. Process
Complaints or violations involving resident behavior are initially handled by the Assistant Director of Residence Life & Student Programs in the Office of Residence Life. These include disruptive behavior, grievances against a resident, and violations of the Occupancy Agreement or the Gewirz Student Center policy. If an agreement cannot be reached, the complaint may proceed to the Director of Residence Life and Student Programs or to the Dean of Students. These persons have the authority to administratively investigate and respond to complaints about student conduct.

In most cases, the Assistant Director will proceed to investigate the incident. In some cases, however, after consultation, the matter will be referred to the Law Center's Professional Responsibility Committee or Ethics Counsel. Once the Committee takes jurisdiction over the matter, the involvement of the Office of Residence Life ends.

2. Resolving Complaints
The Assistant Director of Residence Life & Student Programs will make every attempt to handle complaints regarding residents' conduct in a fair and timely manner.

As part of the investigation of a complaint, the Assistant Director will give the resident about whom the complaint has been filed timely notice of the complaint and a chance to respond to the complaint or allegation. The resident will be informed of the nature of the complaint and given an opportunity to respond in writing and in person.
If after investigating a complaint, the Assistant Director, or other appropriate administrator determines that a resident has violated the Occupancy Agreement or Gewirz Student Center policies, the administrator will meet with the resident and may apply one of the sanctions described below. Whenever appropriate, the AD will mediate between residents in order to air grievances and develop a mutually agreed upon resolution of the problem. In some instances, the students may be referred to another mediator.

3. Sanctions
Sanctions may include one or more of the following:
   a. Verbal warning - applied for minor, first time violations
   b. Written warning - follows a meeting with the resident and reflects a more serious violation. A copy of the letter is kept on file during the period of occupancy.
   c. Room change - for a serious violation that does not warrant termination of the occupancy agreement.
   d. Expulsion from housing - used for behavior that threatens health of oneself or the health or well being of others or for serious or repeated violations of the Occupancy Agreement, Gewirz Student Center policies or Student Conduct Code. Residents expelled from housing are given 24-48 hours to vacate.
   e. Damage charges - Charges for damages shall be assessed as appropriate and charged to the resident’s student account.

4. Appeal in Cases of Expulsion from Housing
A resident who has been asked to vacate the Gewirz Student Center because of serious or repeated misconduct may appeal the decision to the Dean of Students within one business day.

The Law Center reserves the right to remove a student from housing immediately pending adjudication, when it determines, in its sole discretion, that this student would pose a threat to his/her own or other’s safety or well-being and/or would create a disruption to the community if he/she remained in the residence hall while the issue is investigated.

Cancelled Occupancy Agreement
When a resident signs an occupancy agreement, he/she accepts full financial responsibility for his/her space in the apartment for the entire occupancy period. A resident who wishes to cancel the agreement may do so at any time if he/she can find an eligible student who is willing to assume the occupancy agreement. The procedures for this are:

1. The resident wishing to cancel the Agreement contacts the Office of Residence Life.
2. The Office will provide the resident with a list of eligible students who may be interested in assuming the Occupancy Agreement.

3. The resident is responsible for contacting the eligible student and ensuring that all administrative procedures are completed.

4. A refund is offered to the departing resident based on the day that the Office of Residence Life determines that all administrative procedures for the cancelled agreement have been completed.

Move-out
All residents will receive instructions concerning moving out. In order to avoid unnecessary charges, remember the following:

1. Keys should be turned in at the Office of Residence Life.

2. Make sure the apartment is clean and that all personal belongings and trash have been removed.

3. All apartments must be vacated by the assigned time on the last day of the Period of Occupancy.

4. All apartments will be inspected before and after the residents leave. The condition of the apartment upon move-out will be compared to the apartment and room inventory form each resident signed during move-in. If there are any damages or missing inventory, the resident(s) responsible for the apartment or bedroom will have the charge for repair or replacement cost billed to their student account.

Room Charges
Room charges are placed on each resident's student account at the beginning of each semester. They are due at the same time as tuition charges and are subject to the same late fees, deferment fees and monthly service charges. Georgetown University offers a monthly payment plan that enables a student to pay all or part of his/her annual tuition and room and board in ten equal monthly installments. Interested students should contact Student Accounts at (202) 662-9057 for further information. All arrangements to participate in the monthly payment plan must be in place by the start of the academic year.
Termination of Occupancy
The Law Center reserves the right to cancel an Occupancy Agreement if:

1. The resident ceases to be eligible for housing in the Gewirz Student Center; i.e., the resident is no longer a student at the Law Center.

2. The resident violates any term of the Occupancy Agreement, including, but not limited to, failure to pay any amount due on the due date, failure to vacate the assigned space or allowing any other person to occupy the space without prior written consent from the Law Center; resident causes harm to others, self, or is exceptionally disruptive to the community.

3. The assigned space is unavailable or unusable due to damage, construction, renovation, the necessity for repair or for any other reason that the Law Center considers to be good cause.

4. The student violates the Student Conduct Code, the Gewirz Student Center policies and/or the terms of the Occupancy Agreement, and is sanctioned with expulsion.

If the Agreement is terminated by the Law Center, the resident will vacate the assigned space within 24 to 48 hours. In certain cases, an immediate vacating of space may be required. In most cases, the resident will remain liable for all fees for the full period of occupancy.

To seek such permission contact (202) 662-9290. The resident host will be responsible for the guest. The University reserves the right to remove a guest from the Gewirz Student Center if he/she violates Gewirz Student Center policies.

For the safety and well-being of humans and animals, the only pets that students are allowed to have in the Gewirz Student Center are fish. A "fish" is defined as an aquatic species that must live underwater at all times to survive.

Quiet Hours/Courtesy Hours
It is important that the environment in the Gewirz Student Center be consistent with the academic goals of the Law Center. Therefore, the Gewirz Student Center maintains quiet hours and courtesy hours. Quiet hours are from 12 a.m. to 7 a.m. During quiet hours, sound or noise should be maintained at a level that allows for concentrated academic study. When quiet hours are not in effect, courtesy hours will be maintained. During courtesy hours any noise or sound that disturbs other residents must stop upon request.

It is also unlawful for any person or association of persons within the District to place a bet or wager or to make books or pools on the result of any athletic contest. The term “athletic contest” includes any athletic or sporting event, contest, race, or match (DC ST § 22-1708). Managing, promoting, or partaking in any public lottery or sale of tickets is also prohibited (DC ST § 22-1701). Bingo, raffles, and Monte Carlo night parties organized for educational and charitable purposes must be regulated by the District of Columbia Lottery and Charitable Games Control Board. (DC ST § 22-1717)

Resident Fellows

Kara Schoonover—Floors 2 & 4 Apt. 404

I have been a little bit of everywhere in the Midwest: born in Chicago, raised in Dallas, and went to undergrad in Missouri. I graduated from Saint Louis University in 2016 majoring in Health Management and Administration. During my time at SLU, I was actively involved in housing and residence life from hall council to resident advisor, along with several other organizations and honoraries.

I spent my summer in Kansas City, MO working with the U.S. Attorney’s office in their civil division. I am a rising 2L currently involved in Women’s Legal Alliance and a Student Ambassador. My favorite study places on campus is Sports & Fitness and off campus is the Botanical Gardens. When I’m not studying, you can find me running at the gym or people watching on a patio!

Donalene Roberts – Floors 5 & 6 Apt. 504

Donalene grew up in St. Kitts (in the Caribbean) and moved to the US to pursue higher learning. She graduated from Rutgers University-New Brunswick with a degree in French and Political Science. There, she was involved in Residence Life, International Community Advisory Board and French Week. Donalene, currently a 2L, serves as the Community Service Chair of BLSA, a section 3 Peer Advisor, and of course, a Gewirz Resident Fellow. Outside of classes, she loves traveling and reading dystopian novels. Welcome to Georgetown - here’s to a wonderful year!

Chris Ceresa- Floors 6 & 7 Apt. 704

Hi, I’m Chris. I grew up in West Palm Beach, Florida, where I learned martial arts and my first job was movie theater usher. I earned Classics and Entrepreneurship degrees from the University of Florida, where I was involved in various student organizations, conducted policy research, and learned (then forgot) Latin. After graduating, I worked for a startup in the management consulting space, where I collaborated with clients to solve their problems and became a Jeopardy! fan. Then I came to Georgetown, where I experienced snow for the first time, and the summer before my second year, this year, I was a judicial intern. Extracurricularly, I try to stay active, follow the Pittsburgh Steelers, and find a way to include levity in my everyday life. My pro-tip for living in Gewirz is that it’s possible to fit in a guided tour at the museums on the National Mall in-between classes. I’m happy to help you any way I can—welcome to Georgetown!
Samantha Novack - Floors 8 & 9 Apt. 904

Samantha grew up in Danielsville, Pennsylvania. She graduated in May of 2011 with a B.S. in Crime, Law and Justice from The Pennsylvania State University, where she also served as a Resident Assistant from freshman through senior year. Throughout undergrad, Samantha was a member of Omega Phi Alpha and answered crisis hotlines. After graduation, Samantha lived in Enterprise, Alabama and Raeford, North Carolina. She has experience working as an Executive Team Leader over Human Resources and a Public Safety Call Taker. Samantha is currently a 2L at Georgetown Law. She is an active member of PLAID, NOLA, and various other organizations on and off campus. Samantha interned with the Virginia Indigent Defense Commission while simultaneously serving as a Research Assistant for Georgetown's Annual Review of Criminal Procedure. She aspires to be a public defender. When Samantha is not attending school, she enjoys running, long distance hiking, traveling, and kayaking. She looks forward to meeting you all!

Carlton Tarpley - Floors 10 & 11 Apt. 1004

Carlton Tarply grew up in Birmingham, Alabama. She graduated in May of 2015 with a B.S. in Finance and Economics from the University of Alabama, where she also served as a Resident Advisor her sophomore and junior years. During college, Carlton was involved in Alabama’s Mock Trial program and triathlon team.

Carlton is currently a 3L at Georgetown Law and is an active member of the Federalist Society and Women’s Legal Alliance. She was an active competitor in Georgetown’s Moot Court team and a member of the Environmental Law Review last year. When she is not studying, Carlton loves to run around D.C., cheer on The Crimson Tide, and watch Netflix. She can’t wait to meet you all!

Security and Safety
This section provides an overview of Georgetown’s safety policies. Feel free to contact the Department of Public Safety if you have any questions or concerns. Every student is responsible for his or her own safety.

Department of Public Safety
The Department of Public Safety is responsible for providing security at the Law Center. The department, located on the first floor of Gewirz, is available 24 hours a day. Report any emergencies to them immediately at 202-662-9325.

Door Locks
For additional security, use the deadbolt provided on your door. This prevents your door from being opened by a regular room key. Do not leave your doors propped open when you are away from the apartment. Report stolen keys to Public Safety immediately at 202-662-9325.

Visitors & Deliveries
Residents who expect a visitor should meet him or her in the lobby. All visitors must sign in. Residents who expect a delivery or a service call from a non-Georgetown agent, must meet the person or persons calling in the Gewirz lobby and escort those persons through Gewirz. Deliveries or service calls may not be made without an escort.

Blue Light System
Around campus you will find posts with blue lights on them. Each of these spots has a phone that can be used to call for help during an emergency as well as an emergency button. Pressing the button causes the blue light to flash and send for the campus police.

Emergencies
All residents should prepare for emergency scenarios by reviewing plans and expectations in advance. All residents should know where fire extinguishers are kept, where the nearest exits are located, and how to call for help. In the event of an evacuation, please take your wallet, ID card, any medication you may need, and apartment key with you.

Fire
Be sure to note the nearest exit from your bedroom when you move into Gewirz. In the event of a fire, the alarm system will be activated and an announcement will be made. Everyone should exit the building immediately through the nearest marked exit.

Weather Emergencies
In the event of natural disasters, information will be available on the Georgetown Law TV channel (6). If specific action is required, it will be announced on the public address system.

Man-made disasters or acts of terrorism
These events—including bio-terrorism, dirty bombs, or chemical spills — may or may not require evacuation of the Law Center. An announcement will be made explaining what to do. In some situations, you may be asked to remain in the shelter of the Law School buildings for your own safety.
Preventing Crime

Like many big cities, Washington has its fair share of crime. Be careful when out and about. Even though Georgetown University Law Center constantly monitors security, students must take precautions whether on or off campus to protect their safety.

In Gewirz

- Always make sure the door to your room is closed tightly and locked.
- Never allow strangers to follow you into the building.
- In the event of a sexual assault, on or off campus, contact either Public Safety (202-662-9325), a Resident Fellow, or dial 911 immediately.

On Campus

- Try to travel in groups after dark.
- Get to know the campus. Find out where building entrances, exits, and public pay phones are located and where campus security guards are stationed.
- In an emergency, use one of the blue light columns to call the police.
Off Campus

- Instead of walking at night, use the shuttle bus that runs from McDonough to Union Station.
- Be aware of doormen, guards, restaurants, and grocery stores in the neighborhood. Know where you can find them in the event of an emergency.
- Travel in groups after dark. If you have to walk alone, stick to areas that are populated and well-lit, and keep alert at all times.
- Do not carry large sums of money, jewelry, or other valuables. Be especially careful when using ATM machines.
- In an emergency, or if you hear someone calling for help, dial 911 immediately. If no telephone is available, enter a store or place of business to call for help.

In addition to several smaller classrooms and seminar rooms, the first floor has a student dining room and coffee bar.

Living in DC

Washington—an impressive but impractical city
When Pierre L’Enfant designed Washington, he was more concerned with aesthetics than rush-hour traffic. As a result, the city is filled with broad tree-lined avenues — beautiful to look at, but frustrating to navigate. But exploring Washington isn’t so difficult—once you have a basic understanding of how the city is laid out.

Sort of a grid...but not quite...

Pierre L’Enfant placed the Capitol Building near the center of Washington on what was known as Jenkins Hill. Four streets radiate from the Capitol building dividing the city into four quadrants: Northwest, Northeast, Southwest, and Southeast. Every address in Washington denotes the quadrant of the city as well as the street address.

The city is then divided into a grid. Numerical streets run north and south, increasing in value as they move away from the Capitol. Alphabetical streets run east and west, proceeding in alphabetical order as they move away from the Capitol building. Avenues are named after States and run at diagonals, often connecting important buildings, landmarks, or circles.

Capitol Hill

Capitol Hill sits at the figurative center of Washington. The Capitol Building dominates the neighborhood, which is occupied by the Congressional office buildings and numerous business and financial offices. During the day, the neighborhood is vibrant with business people, tourists, and government workers. In the evening, however, the area tends to become a relatively quiet, residential neighborhood. The strip along Pennsylvania Avenue just south of the Capitol Building and Barrack’s Row (8th St. SE) have recently become popular night spots with bars, restaurants, and unique shops.

Dupont Circle

Lined with stately nineteenth century mansions, Dupont Circle is home to some of Washington’s best shopping, dining, and nightlife. During the day, the neighborhood is packed with tourists and locals alike, and in the evening, crowds pack into Dupont’s restaurants, bars, and clubs. Dupont Circle is also home to Washington’s vibrant gay and lesbian community.

Adams Morgan

Washington’s equivalent to New York’s Greenwich Village, Adams Morgan is filled with stores, restaurants, and bars. Ethnically mixed and culturally diverse, Adams Morgan houses some of Washington’s grittier and more exciting nightlife.

U Street Corridor

Historically the cultural center of Washington’s African-American community, U Street has become a Washington hot spot. Lined with international restaurants, theaters, and jazz clubs, U Street has recently been revitalized into a new haven for nightlife and hip culture. The U Street nightlife is centered around the U Street Metro stop at 13th Street.

Georgetown

Originally an eighteenth century tobacco port, Georgetown is now one of the country’s most prestigious neighborhoods. Home to ambassadors and politicians, the neighborhood also houses Georgetown’s main campus. During the day, the stores on M Street are packed with shoppers and tourists, and in the evenings, students and locals crowd into M Street’s many bars, clubs, and restaurants.

Chinatown/Penn Quarter/Downtown

Craving dim sum? Want to catch a basketball game or major concert? Then head to Chinatown. Filled with inexpensive restaurants, unique specialty stores, and colorful street vendors, Chinatown is only blocks away from Gewirz. The area just south of Chinatown, Penn Quarter, near the Verizon Center at 7th Street, is a particularly vibrant and popular night spot.

Using the Metro

Clean, efficient, and easy to use, Washington’s subway system is one of the finest in the United States. Stations are located throughout the city, and maps and prices can be found online at wmata.com.
Every passenger on Metro needs a reusable pass called a Smartrip Card, which works for both the subway and the bus system. Smartrip card machines are located in each Metro station; you can also reload money onto your card in person at the Metro station or online at wtma.com.

Exploring the Neighborhood

Gewirz Student Center is located in the Capitol Hill neighborhood. Take the time to get to know the area—especially the location of stores, restaurants, and important businesses.

Many of Washington’s theaters—notably the Kennedy Center and the Shakespeare theater—are world famous. Most theaters offer special performance prices for students.

The Kennedy Center for the Arts
Built as a living memorial to John F. Kennedy, the Kennedy Center (kennedy-center.org) is home to the Washington National Opera and the National Symphony Orchestra among other artistic organizations. Information on performances and tickets can be found online. The Kennedy Center does offer student tickets, but they can only be purchased in person at the Kennedy Center ticket office.

Local Theaters
A detailed list of local theaters—including the Shakespeare Theatre, The National Theatre, and Fords Theatre—can be found online on the Web page of the DC Arts organization (nationaltheatre.org or fords.org).

Flanking either side of the United States Mall, the Smithsonian Museums (si.edu) are vast, comprehensive, and free of charge.

The Smithsonian museums house artifacts and exhibits ranging from the Enola Gay airplane to the ruby slippers Judy Garland wore in The Wizard of Oz. The museums are too large to explore in one day, so be sure to dedicate ample time to each museum.

Some Smithsonian museums are scattered throughout the city, so check their website for details.

The Folger Shakespeare Library

The Folger Library and Museum (folger.edu) houses the world’s largest collection of Shakespeare’s printed works. The library regularly offers exhibits and live performances.

The United States National Holocaust Museum

One of the most powerful of Washington’s museums, the National Holocaust Museum is located just south of the Washington Monument and the National Mall. No passes are necessary to enter the building or special exhibitions, but free timed passes are required to visit the museum’s main exhibit. Passes can be picked up the morning of your visit. See the museum’s Web site for more information.
The International Spy Museum

The new International Spy Museum (spymuseum.org) presents the equipment, techniques, and legends of espionage throughout history. Through photographs, interactive displays, and films, the museum covers the history of espionage from ancient Japan through the Cold War to the present day. Tickets are required, and you can purchase your ticket in advance to avoid waiting in line.

The US Botanical Garden

Located at the base of the Capitol Building, the Botanical Gardens (usbg.gov) are a living museum, with rare and exotic flowers, ferns and trees.

The Washington Monument

Poking out of the Mall like an Egyptian obelisk, the Washington Monument sits between the Capitol Building and the Lincoln Memorial. The Monument was reopened on May 12, 2014 after suffering significant earthquake damage on August 23, 2011. For more information or to book a tour, visit their website at www.recreation.gov.

The Lincoln Memorial

Built to mimic the famous Greek temple to Zeus, the Lincoln Memorial is a very solemn and moving memorial to the sixteenth president.

The Jefferson and FDR Memorials

Located along the Potomac Tidal Basin in southwest DC, the Jefferson Memorial and the FDR Memorial are tributes to two influential presidents and the eras over which they presided.

The War Memorials

Memorials to the veterans of the Vietnam War, the Korean War, and World War II surround the National Mall. The National Mall is also lined with smaller memorials to famous leaders, conflicts, and political figures.
Shopping in the District

Shopping in DC ranges from posh specialty stores to haggling street vendors. Many neighborhoods have distinct characteristics and the stores are often extensions of a neighborhood’s unique character.

Connecticut Avenue

Dozens of high end stores line Connecticut Avenue near Dupont Circle. Take an afternoon to stroll up and down Connecticut, then play a game of chess in Dupont Circle Park—a traditional DC pastime.

M Street (Georgetown)

Lined with posh furniture stores, restaurants, and specialty stores, M Street is a favorite destination spot for tourists and locals alike.

Pentagon City/Pentagon Row

Just off the yellow and blue Metro lines, Pentagon City Mall has large department stores, dozens of specialty stores, and an enormous food court. Just outside the mall, Pentagon Row features a variety of stores, restaurants, and pubs.
