

Welcome to GEORGETOWN LAW

Georgetown Law's location in the heart of Washington, D.C., just blocks from the U.S. Congress and Supreme Court, allows students an unparalleled look at the dynamic legal processes of our nation. With over 100 full-time faculty, Georgetown has the most extensive curriculum of any law school. Students can take a wide range of courses and seminars, in addition to participating in our leading experiential learning program. On our campus, students have extraordinary access to opportunities both inside and outside the classroom.

The entire campus is equipped with free wireless internet. Select the "GuestNet" network. There is no password necessary to join.

GEORGETOWN LAW

GUIDE TO THE LAW CENTER CAMPUS

"Our motto 'Law is but the means, justice is the end' sums up the core commitment of Georgetown Law. We believe that all students can get an excellent legal education while also learning how important it is to serve others. Students will take their education and their dedication to others with them as they pursue a wide range of careers. They may go into public service, government, business or big firm practice. But they take this core commitment with them wherever they go."

— WILLIAM TREANOR, DEAN

Exploring Campus

EDWARD BENNETT WILLIAMS LAW LIBRARY

With over one million volumes of legal material, the EBW Law Library houses one of the largest academic law collections in the nation. The library is equipped with computer labs, free Lexis and Westlaw printing, a catalogue of old exams, a LiveHelp chat feature, and a state-of-the-art online catalogue that provides access to all of the materials housed in both the Georgetown Law library and other local libraries.
