JTIP

JTIP is a youth defense trial advocacy curriculum developed to instill youth defense as a specialized practice and enhance the capacity of youth defenders to provide meaningful high-quality representation to their clients at every stage of the delinquency system. JTIP provides both substantive legal analysis and skills training. It was developed by the National Juvenile Defender Center (NJDC), in collaboration with experts and leaders in the youth defense community from around the country, along with support from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation Models for Change Initiative. The curriculum is comprised of lessons covering topics such as the role of the youth defense attorney, adolescent development, trial practice skills, as well as specialized case dockets such youth sex offense cases or drug cases.

JTIP Summer Academy

The JTIP Summer Academy is an annual one-week intensive training program comprised of JTIP lessons taught by youth defense experts recruited from across the country. The 2022 JTIP Summer Academy will be held June 19 - June 25, 2022 at Georgetown Law in Washington, DC. The Academy is intended for both new and experienced youth defenders. New defenders will develop the skills they need to zealously represent their clients. More experienced youth defenders will have the opportunity to refine their skills and enhance their effectiveness by employing defense strategies that incorporate the unique aspects of representing youth in delinquency cases. The program is also designed to build community and equip youth defenders with skills they can share with colleagues in their home state. The JTIP Summer Academy is hosted by the National Juvenile Defender Center (NJDC) and Georgetown Law's Juvenile Justice Clinic & Initiative.

National Juvenile Defender Center (NJDC)

NJDC promotes justice for all children by ensuring excellence in youth defense. NJDC believes that all youth have the right to zealous, well-resourced representation and that the youth defense bar must build its capacity to produce and support capable, well-trained defenders. NJDC, through its national headquarters and its Regional Defender Centers, works to create an environment in which defenders have access to sufficient resources, including investigative and expert assistance, as well as specialized training, adequate and equitable compensation, and manageable workloads. NJDC provides guidance and support to the field including training and technical assistance, policy reform, advocacy, and resource development to juvenile defenders across the nation.

Georgetown Law's Juvenile Justice Clinic & Initiative

Georgetown Law's Juvenile Justice Clinic & Initiative have served youth in the District of Columbia for over 40 years. Together, they aim to raise the quality and scope of youth defense practice in the District of Columbia, the Mid-Atlantic region, and nationally through continued direct representation, policy advocacy, and the training of youth defenders during law school and beyond. As part of those efforts, the Initiative currently houses NJDC's Mid-Atlantic Juvenile Defender Center and the JTIP Summer Academy on site at Georgetown Law.

Tuition

Tuition for the 2022 JTIP Summer Academy will be $200 due at registration, which will cover training materials, some meals, and CLE credit-approval. Please note that the $200 is a deposit to reserve your spot in the program. It is nonrefundable for any reason.

Participants will be responsible for their own housing and travel expenses. Once selected, participants will receive information about housing options that are available in the area of Georgetown Law's Campus.

Application and Admissions

The 2022 JTIP Summer Academy will be limited to front-line defenders. The deadline for applications is January 7, 2022 at 11:59PM EST. Applications received after this time will not be considered. All applications should be emailed to lawjtipsummer@georgetown.edu. Please review the full application instructions at the end of page 3.

Participants are expected to attend the full program. Slots are limited, and this program is heavily subsidized. Resources well beyond your $200 non-refundable deposit are committed in advance for every attendee. Please be respectful of the fact that your failure to attend the full program would deprive someone else of the opportunity to participate. Please note that we begin on Sunday, June 19 and end on Saturday, June 25. Please apply only if you can commit to attending sessions in Washington, DC for the full week.

In selecting participants, our goal is to ensure each JTIP Summer Academy class is filled with a diverse range of defenders. The following are some of the criteria we will consider in the selection process: (1) Years and scope of experience in defense practice; (2) Years and scope of experience in youth defense practice; (3) Current youth caseload; (4) Geographic location; (5) Public defenders and private practitioners; (6) Diversity.
