Off-Campus Housing

Find your base in DC.

Washington DC remains once of the most exciting cities to live in. People, culture, and cuisine come from all over the world to make strong neighborhoods and intriguing cross-town opportunities. DC has high-brow think tanks, an underground music scene, and hundreds of festivals in between. You're going to live in DC. Start by finding a place to stay.

In addition to on-campus housing, the Office of Residence Life provides all students with resources to select and secure off-campus housing. The Office hosts a housing fair each spring to connect interested students with local rental opportunities that may meet their needs. Additional guidance is available year-round through the content and links on this website.

Finding a Rental

Once you have an idea of what you want, visit the Off-Campus Housing Listings page to see options for Georgetown students.

Before you dive into the listings, though, students should consider what they're looking for with regard to:

- Location: How far do you want to live from the Law Center? How far do you want to live from the nearest Metro stop?
- Safety: Which neighborhood(s) do you want to consider, in light of the DC public crime
