Created by the Metta Grokenberger Dean of Admissions, Andy Cornblatt, the Opportunity Scholarship Program at Georgetown Law leverages the generosity of our donors with Georgetown resources to invest in highly talented applicants. This program, which continues to be one of the Office of Admissions' most successful recruiting tools, has steadily shifted the composition of our classrooms to more accurately reflect the diverse communities our students come from and will some day serve.

ELIZABETH MEADE L'28

My opportunity scholarship was the difference for me in being able to attend Georgetown Law full-time and having to attend part-time so that I could work. I am already seeing the benefits of being able to dedicate myself entirely to my studies, and I am so grateful that your donation facilitated that choice for me.

KAYLAH FRAZIER L'28

Your support makes such a difference, not only financially, but also in showing that someone believes in me and my potential. It motivates me to work even harder and reminds me that I'm not doing this alone. I hope to one day pay it forward and help future students the way you've helped me.

TAI CRISCO L'28

The cost of my legal education was one of the greatest limiting factors while considering where to attend. My opportunity scholarship provided me with the chance to receive a top legal education without suffering an unreasonable amount of debt and substantially limiting my career options for years to come.
